Objections By Makarios Peril Talks

Leader Of Greek Cypriots Seeks To Revise Accord

LONDON (UPI)—Objections by Greek Cypriot leader Archbishop Makarios loomed as a threat on Wednesday night to the peace talks among British, Greek and Turkish leaders on the future of Cyprus.

The talks resumed on a foreign minister level pending the release of Turkish Premier Adnan Menderes from the hospital. Menderes survived a Turkish airliner crash which Tuesday killed some high Turkish government officials. Three more bodies were found on Wednesday to raise the death toll in the crash to 15.

Menderes Not Seriously Hurt

Hospital officials said Menderes suffered no serious injury, and probably would leave the hospital Thursday after another night's rest. His hospitalization canceled a top-level meeting he was scheduled to have attended Wednesday morning with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Greek Prime Minister Konstantin Karamanlis.

Proposals by Makarios for revisions of the Greek - Turkish agreement on an independent Cypriot republic brought a flat rejection from Turkish Cypriot leader, Dr. Fazil Kutchuk, and a reported split with the Greek delegation.

"Rush" Meeting Held

The foreign ministers of Britain, Turkey and Greece invited Makarios and Kutchuk to a "rush" meeting Wednesday night at the suggestion of Turkish Foreign Minister Fatim Zorlu. Zorlu made the suggestion apparently after conferring with Menderes in the hospital.

Kutchuk wrote the archbishop there could be no negotiations on the plan approved by the Greek and Turkish governments because it already was a compromise on the Greek and Turkish Cypriot views. Turkish Cypriot officials felt Makarios was seeking to kill the plan and to reopen negotiations on the whole Cyprus problem.

Among His Souvenirs

Doctors removed some glass after an accident years ago but the sliver was not discovered until last month when a boy jumped on his chest and he felt something snap. The sliver, broken in four pieces, was removed in a delicate operation. A member of the surgical team said if a chest surgeon who knew just how to place the sliver had tried to do so, "he couldn't have put it in without killing him." (AP Photofax)

Soviet Line Set For Macmillan By Khrushchev

MOSCOW (AP)—Diplomats said Wednesday they believe Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's latest pronouncement on German issues fixes the Soviet line for the visit of British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan. Macmillan arrives Saturday, to stay a week or 10 days.

Khrushchev warned the Western powers in a speech Tuesday that any attempt to shoot their way into West Berlin by land or air would mean war with the Soviet Union. He said the Soviet bloc is prepared to sign a peace treaty with both West and East Germany —"or with one of them."

President Eisenhower told a news conference in Washington that if there is any shooting over West Berlin it will be started by the Soviet Union and not by the Western Allies.

German unification and the future of West Berlin are certain to be top problems for discussion and exploration during Macmillan's contacts with Kremlin leaders.

"Khrushchev has left little to explore by his statements," an ambassador said. "But I'm sure Khrushchev will be willing to repeat all this to Macmillan if the prime minister asks him."

Envoys here who have been keeping in close touch with Soviet developments on the German problem see little chance that Macmillan can change Khrushchev's mind.

One remarked it looks more like Macmillan will serve as a messenger, taking back to Western capitals his personalized version of Khrushchev's speech Wednesday.

Eight Boys Flee Training School

OWINGS MILL, Md. (AP) — Eight boys, 16 to 20 years old, overpowered a guard and escaped from nearby Rosewood State Training School Wednesday.

The school is just northwest of Baltimore.

Police said the boys, all inmates of a maximum security cottage, forced attendant George Gaughan into a washroom, pushed him to the floor and took his keys. They locked him in the room and fled through a basement door.

Authorities said all but two of the boys were from Baltimore: Theodore Baltimore, 16, of Frederick, and Eugene Carroll, 16, of Michaelsville, both Negroes.

White Students Boycott School At Front Royal

FRONT ROYAL, Va. (AP) — Warren County opened its only high school to Negro and white children Wednesday but only 22 nervous Negro pupils turned up to be enrolled.

Not one white child applied for admission as the doors of the previously all-white school—designed for 1,000 pupils—swung open for the first time since it was closed last September to prevent integration. Class work begins Thursday.

The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People blamed the school board for what amounted to a complete boycott by white pupils, 780 of whom now are enrolled in private schools here.

But Q. D. Gasque, county school superintendent, said he didn't know what school officials could do to get white pupils to enroll unless their parents want to send them. "My guess is the parents do not wish to interrupt their education a second time," he said.

Parents are under no legal compulsion to send their children to any schools. The Legislature recently repealed the compulsory attendance law as a means of preventing integration.

Warren thus became the 11th public school in the fourth Virginia community to open for integration.

In Richmond, Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. said it was abundantly clear that the people of Warren County are exercising a right "inherent in the principle of individual choice." He promised his administration will make an effort to provide protection for Virginians exercising their right not to associate with other races.

The Negro children, arriving in private automobiles, checked in at barricades erected across the school driveway shortly before 9 a.m.

Police stood ready at strategic points about the school, but there was no violence.

By 10:25 a.m. registration was over and the Negro children returned to their homes in the cars that brought them.

Batista Army Major Directs Own Execution

HAVANA (AP)—A firing squad executed Maj. Jesus Sosa Blanco at La Cabana fortress early Wednesday after he calmly directed them: "Get ready . . . aim . . . fire!"

He was granted his final request —that he be given the right to direct the execution of his own death sentence.

Sosa Blanco, 51, former commander at Holquin in Oriente province, was convicted a second time Tuesday of being a major war criminal under ousted President Fulgencio Batista's dictatorship.

Sosa Blanco had appealed from the conviction and death sentence imposed in his first public trial in the Havana Sports Palace Jan. 23. He won a new trial—but the outcome was the same as in the first.

Badman Seized After 24 Hours On 'Top 10' List

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI agents arrested John Thomas Freeman, 40-year-old Midwestern badman, at Hillside, Md., near Washington Wednesday just 24 hours after he had been put on the FBI's list of "10 most wanted men."

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover announced two agents grabbed Freeman on the street as he was leaving a second-floor apartment in Hillside, where he had been living.

The agents said the capture was made after only a short struggle and quoted Freeman, who had a revolver stuck in his trousers, as saying he would have killed both agents if he had had the opportunity to pull the gun.

Freeman, who has a 22-year crime record, was living at Hillside under the name of Jack H. Williams, and recently registered a car under that name. Described by the FBI as a drug addict, Freeman was currently being sought for the Sept. 7, 1958 holdup of a Joplin, Mo., drugstore in which a quantity of narcotics was taken.

Infant Stricken

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) —The nursery of University Hospital was closed Wednesday after officials reported finding straphylococcal infection among staff members and infants. Dr. Robert Loew, hospital superintendent, said the disease among infants is under control and sick babies isolated.

Vanguard Seen Capable Of Spotting Atom Blasts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The high-flying Vanguard II satellite sent out batch after batch of weather information Wednesday and one of its proud parents said it may prove capable of spotting a nuclear explosion.

Another scientist said the electronics pictures it has transmitted to ground stations have already proved good enough to distinguish between clouds and horizons.

The satellite was launched Tuesday.

Dr. John P. Hagen, director of the Vanguard division of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, was asked about the possibility of nuclear explosion detection in an appearance before the House Space Committee.

Rep. James Fulton (R - Pa) wanted to know whether Vanguard II could spot a nuclear explosion and immediately send back information on it.

"I would think so, yes," Hagen replied. He then added he wanted to wait for more data from the satellite before saying just how small a cloud it could detect.

Hagen said, to another question, that it is too soon to speculate on the possibility of a satellite detecting missiles in flight.

Meanwhile the first batches of cloud cover information gleaned by radio from the space sphere were being rushed to the Army's Signal Corps Research Laboratory at Ft. Monmouth, N.J. for analysis.

Dr. William G. Stroud Jr., chief of the Ft. Monmouth unit which devised the cloud cover experiment, told a reporter it will take several weeks to analyze any detail concerning the cloud cover noted.

Corn Price Support Set At Lowest Level

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson Wednesday set the minimum price support for 1959 crop corn at $1.12 a bushel.

This compares with last year's dual rate of $1.36 for corn grown in compliance with acreage controls and $1.06 for corn grown out of compliance.

Under a new program approved by growers at a referendum last fall, there will be no acreage allotment this year. Hence, this year's single rate.

Senate Labor Group Spurns Ike Measure

Demo-Sponsored Antiracketeering Bill Is Endorsed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate Labor subcommittee spurned major labor law changes urged by President Eisenhower Wednesday and approved instead a Democratic - sponsored antiracketeering measure.

Since the subcommittee is controlled by Democrats, the action came as no surprise.

Chairman John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) said the subcommittee agreed by unanimous vote to send the bill authored by himself and Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. (D-NC) to the full Labor Committee. It's expected to win approval there too and may come up on the Senate floor early next month.

The Democrats have a 4-3 majority in the subcommittee.

Backers of Eisenhower's rival bill, and the President himself, made clear they would continue to plug hard for provisions they contend are needed to curb abuses in the labor field. Kennedy and other Democrats have said other labor legislation proposals will be considered in a separate bill later.

Eisenhower told his news conference two features "should be right squarely" in any labor bill passed—his proposals to curb secondary boycotts and "blackmail picketing." The Kennedy - Ervin measure does not include either.

Secondary boycotts involve union action against parties not directly involved in a labor-management dispute. "Blackmail picketing" is aimed at forcing workers into a union.

Both Eisenhower's bill and the Democratic measure include curbs aimed at corruption in unions

Marshall In Serious Condition

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (UPI)—Army doctors reported Wednesday Gen. George C. Marshall has suffered a second and more severe stroke and is in "serious condition."

The 78-year-old retired soldier-statesman was conscious and there was no evidence of paralysis, according to the medical bulletin issued at Womack General Hospital here.

But Col. George Powell, chief of medicine at Womack, said Marshall's condition was "serious and prognosis depends on future developments."

Powell said that Marshall had some difficulty in swallowing and seeing but his blood pressure and pulse were stable. He called in an eye specialist, Dr. George A. Levi of Fayetteville, N.C., and Dr. Henry McIntosh, a Duke University heart specialist, for consultation. "They examined the general and are in agreement with the diagnosis and treatment," Powell said.

USMC To Discharge 'Death March' Leader

CHERRY POINT, N.C. (AP)— Marine Cpl. Matthew C. McKeon, who led six recruits to their deaths in a tidal creek at the Parris Island, S.C., Marine Corps recruit depot three years ago, is being discharged because of a physical disability.

A spokesman at this Marine Corps Air Station, where McKeon has been assigned since 1956, said a physical evaluation board had recommended the discharge because of a "ruptured intervertebra disc."

McKeon was convicted by a court-martial in the fatal 1956 march of negligent homicide and drinking on duty.

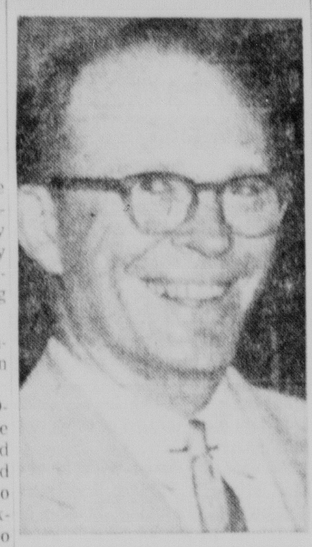

The Marine spokesman said McKeon's back began troubling him Oct. 27. His discharge was ordered Feb. 2. The spokesman said he would be discharged in the near future.

Molotov Back At Post

MOSCOW (AP)—Ex-Premier V. M. Molotov is back at his post as ambassador to Outer Mongolia, diplomatic sources said Wednesday. Molotov was roundly denounced at the recent Soviet Communist party congress as a member of the antiparty group that opposed Premier Nikita Khrushchev's policies.

Ike Says Any Resort To Force In Berlin Would Be By Soviet

Allies To Carry Out Duties But Will Not Shoot Way Into City

QUITS AEC—Dr. Willard F. Libby (above), the only member of the five-man Atomic Energy Commission with an extensive scientific background, resigned yesterday. Libby said: "If I am to remain a scientist I must return to teaching and research in the near future." (AP Photofax)

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said Wednesday it will be the Soviets who start it, rather than the Western powers, if there is to be any shooting or use of force over Berlin.

Eisenhower told a news conference that the United States and her allies intend to fulfill their duties, to safeguard West Berlin and hold open the communication channels to it.

But he also said that if there is to be any resort to force, it will be "the other side" using it to "block our carrying out our responsibilities."

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said in a speech Tuesday that it will "mean the beginning of war" if the Western Allies try to shoot their way through after the Soviets turn over their occupation authority in Berlin to the East German Communists.

Relies On Dulles' Ideas

Eisenhower said he had read the speech only in abbreviated form, but: "I would say this: He must be talking about shooting to stop us from doing our duty. After all, that is what is going to happen if it happens. We are not saying we are going to shoot our way into Berlin."

In any foreign ministers conference on the Berlin situation, Eisenhower let it be known he intends to rely heavily on the ideas and experience of ailing John Foster Dulles, even if the secretary of state is unable to be present.

Dulles has been stricken with a recurrence of cancer. But Eisenhower said the doctors have assured him that "there is nothing in his disease that is going to touch his heart and his head, and that is what we want."

Eisenhower denied reports that Dulles has offered to resign as a result of his illness. The President said he has not discussed a possible successor with anyone.

Wants Dulles To Stay On Job

Eisenhower said in forceful tones: "Therefore, as long as Secretary Dulles believes that he is in shape to carry on, he is exactly the person I want."

The President remarked that during World War II he asked Gen. George C. Marshall, then chief of staff, to send a certain corps commander in the U.S. to him in Europe right away. But Marshall wired back that the man was "so crippled out in Walter Reed (Hospital) that the doctors won't assure you that he can move around."

The President said he told Marshall to "send the man and I will send him to battle in a litter, because he can do better that way than most people I know. Now, I feel this way about Secretary Dulles..."

Dulles' Doctors Start Radiation Therapy Friday

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said Wednesday Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' cancer in no way impairs his basic ability to do his job better than anybody else could.

"The doctors have assured me," Eisenhower told a news conference, "there is nothing in his disease that is going to touch his heart and his head, and that is what we want."

The President said he and Dulles decided in a talk at Walter Reed Army Medican Center Tuesday to go right ahead with previously arranged efforts to negotiate a peaceful settlement of the German crisis with the Soviet Union.

Eisenhower denied reports that Dulles had specifically offered to resign during his new illness or that the White House was sounding out Republican leaders on a possible successor to Dulles.

"As long as Secretary Dulles believes that he is in shape to carry on," Eisenhower said, "he is exactly the person I want."

The secretary's doctors announced meanwhile they have unanimously agreed on a plan of treatment, starting "[illegible]h radiation therapy on Friday.

A medical bulletin issued by Maj. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, hospital commandant in charge of the case, said:

"The secretary is continuing to get up. He is walking more and more each day and sitting up longer each day."

The State Department said Dulles discussed official matters for about 12 minutes by telephone Wednesday with his special assistant, Joseph N. Greene Jr. No official documents were sent to Dulles the department said, but he is reading newspapers, books and magazines, and is receiving family visitors.

Integration Of Miami School Approved

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Dade County School Board has voted to admit four Negroes to an all-white elementary school in Miami.

The board decided Wednesday to make the Orchard Villa Elementary School, in a neighborhood into which some Negro families have moved, a "pilot school" for integration of the races. The idea has the endorsement of Gov. LeRoy Collins.

The pupils will be admitted to the school at the beginning of the fall term next September.

Tranquilized Steak Wins Writers' Unanimous Vote

NEW YORK (AP)—A carefully chosen group of some of New York's foremost eaters — all of them writers—lunched Wednesday on franquilized sirloin steak.

They also lunched on nontranquilized sirloin steak.

A king-size sample of each type was set before the assemblage of 34 persons, mostly food and science editors with a sprinkling of amateur gourmets.

These giant sirloins were dished out to the lucky few in the plush Williamsburg suite of the Savoy-Hilton Hotel by the Jensen-Salsbery Laboratories of Kansas City.

The Jensen - Salsbery Laboratories did this because they want to sell their newly developed tranquilizer to the cattlemen who raise the meat for the tables of America.

The idea, to try to sum it up in one small bite, is this:

Beef cattle are giving an injection of the J-S lab tranquilizer, called Diquel, just before being shipped to the slaughterhouse.

Just as tranquilizers quiet human beings, these make the cattle feel good and they don't mind the arduous and unsettling trip. Because they don't get nervous and excited, their blood sugar content remains low.

This in turn keeps the animals from losing weight, getting bruised and developing shipping fever. The meat is supposed to be tastier and tenderer.

Each steak served at the luncheon was marked, one with a red tag and one with a yellow. When both were consumed, the writers wrote down secretly which they liked best.

The vote came out: red, 25; yellow, 0. The red, it turned out, came from a tranquilized steer.

Eisenhower Stops Over At Tex. Base

U.S. And Mexican Leaders Will Meet Today At Acapulco

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — President Eisenhower stopped off in his native state of Texas Wednesday night en route to Mexico after a five and a half hour flight from Washington which he devoted largely to chatting with Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson.

Johnson, whose home is about 50 miles from Austin, and Rep. Homer Thornberry (D-Tex.), rode south aboard the Columbine III at Eisenhower's invitation.

Eisenhower also invited House Speaker Sam Rayburn and Rep. Bruce Alger (R-Tex.) to make the trip to Austin, but they were unable to accept.

Eisenhower stopped here to spend the night at Bergstrom Air Force Base before continuing on early Thursday to Acapulco, the colorful Mexican resort on the Pacific coast where he will be the guest of Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

Governor Meets Ike

Gov. Price Daniel of Texas and Mayor Tom Miller of Austin were on hand to give the President a warm greeting as the Columbine pulled off the two-mile long runway at the big Strategic Air Command base.

Johnson continued on his way to his home at Johnson City, but Daniel hopped into the car with the President and accompanied him to the air base quarters reserved for distinguished visitors.

Eisenhower was scheduled to take off for Acapulco Thursday at 6 a.m., arriving in the Mexican resort for a two-day visit at about 10 a.m. (c.s.t.).

To Take Yacht Ride

Assistant secretary for inter-American affairs, Roy Rubottom Jr., and the President's brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, were the only officials to accompany the President for the informal talks in luxurious Acapulco with Lopez Mateos.

The President and Lopez Mateos will get acquainted on a yacht ride over sparkling Acapulco Bay and over a lunch and two dinners in two of the most elegant hotels in this hemisphere.

His visit is scheduled to end after a dinner Friday night, when Lopez Mateos will accompany him to the airport for an expected departure by 11 p.m. e.s.t.

Jury Weighs Tax Charges Against Beck

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — A federal court jury Wednesday began deliberating government charges that former Teamsters Union President Dave Beck evaded $240,000 in income taxes.

The jury of eight men and four women got the case on the 60th day of Beck's trial, which began Nov. 10.

The millionaire ex-labor boss is charged with six counts of tax evasion. Four counts cover the years 1950-53. The two others accuse him of helping prepare fraudulent tax returns for the Teamster organizations.

Each count carries a maximum penalty of five years' imprisonment and a $10,000 fine.

In the three-month trial, which cost more than $200,000, the government called 115 witnesses. The defense called one, an accountant, and completed its case in a little more than an hour.

Hoffa Raps AFL-CIO For "Double Ethics"

WASHINGTON (AP) — Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa said Wednesday he wants to get his union back into the AFL-CIO, but won't ask to be taken back.

Hoffa accused the AFL-CIO of applying a double standard of ethics in expelling the Teamsters on the charges that it is riddled with corruption, but letting the Carpenters Union remain in the federation.

The Senate Labor - Management Committee has leveled corruption charges at officials of both unions, including Hoffa and Carpenters' President Maurice Hutcheson.

Hoffa threatened to call a strike against the Carpenters Union as an employer, if that union resists Teamsters efforts to organize workers at the Carpenters' big citrus fruit groves near Lakeland, Fla.

The Democrats have a 4-3 majority in the subcommittee.

Backers of Eisenhower's rival bill, and the President himself, made clear they would continue to plug hard for provisions they contend are needed to curb abuses in the labor field. Kennedy and other Democrats have said other labor legislation proposals will be considered in a separate bill later.

Eisenhower told his news conference two features "should be right squarely" in any labor bill passed—his proposals to curb secondary boycotts and "blackmail picketing." The Kennedy - Ervin measure does not include either.

Secondary boycotts involve union action against parties not directly involved in a labor-management dispute. "Blackmail picketing" is aimed at forcing workers into a union.

Both Eisenhower's bill and the Democratic measure include curbs aimed at corruption in unions

Marshall In Serious Condition

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (UPI)—Army doctors reported Wednesday Gen. George C. Marshall has suffered a second and more severe stroke and is in "serious condition."

The 78-year-old retired soldier-statesman was conscious and there was no evidence of paralysis, according to the medical bulletin issued at Womack General Hospital here.

But Col. George Powell, chief of medicine at Womack, said Marshall's condition was "serious and prognosis depends on future developments."

Powell said that Marshall had some difficulty in swallowing and seeing but his blood pressure and pulse were stable. He called in an eye specialist, Dr. George A. Levi of Fayetteville, N.C., and Dr. Henry McIntosh, a Duke University heart specialist, for consultation. "They examined the general and are in agreement with the diagnosis and treatment," Powell said.

USMC To Discharge 'Death March' Leader

CHERRY POINT, N.C. (AP)— Marine Cpl. Matthew C. McKeon, who led six recruits to their deaths in a tidal creek at the Parris Island, S.C., Marine Corps recruit depot three years ago, is being discharged because of a physical disability.

A spokesman at this Marine Corps Air Station, where McKeon has been assigned since 1956, said a physical evaluation board had recommended the discharge because of a "ruptured intervertebra disc."

McKeon was convicted by a court-martial in the fatal 1956 march of negligent homicide and drinking on duty.

The Marine spokesman said McKeon's back began troubling him Oct. 27. His discharge was ordered Feb. 2. The spokesman said he would be discharged in the near future.

Molotov Back At Post

MOSCOW (AP)—Ex-Premier V. M. Molotov is back at his post as ambassador to Outer Mongolia, diplomatic sources said Wednesday. Molotov was roundly denounced at the recent Soviet Communist party congress as a member of the antiparty group that opposed Premier Nikita Khrushchev's policies.

Corn Price Support Set At Lowest Level

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson Wednesday set the minimum price support for 1959 crop corn at $1.12 a bushel.

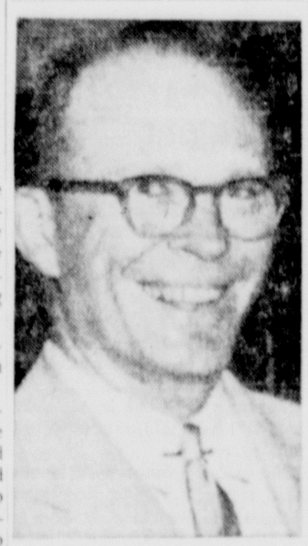

This compares with last year's dual rate of $1.36 for corn grown in compliance with acreage controls and $1.06 for corn grown out of compliance.

Under a new program approved by growers at a referendum last fall, there will be no acreage allotment this year. Hence, this year's single rate.

Allies To Carry Out Duties But Will Not Shoot Way Into City

QUITS AEC—Dr. Willard F. Libby (above), the only member of the five-man Atomic Energy Commission with an extensive scientific background, resigned yesterday. Libby said: "If I am to remain a scientist I must return to teaching and research in the near future." (AP Photofax)

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said Wednesday it will be the Soviets who start it, rather than the Western powers, if there is to be any shooting or use of force over Berlin.

Eisenhower told a news conference that the United States and her allies intend to fulfill their duties, to safeguard West Berlin and hold open the communication channels to it.

But he also said that if there is to be any resort to force, it will be "the other side" using it to "block our carrying out our responsibilities."

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said in a speech Tuesday that it will "mean the beginning of war" if the Western Allies try to shoot their way through after the Soviets turn over their occupation authority in Berlin to the East German Communists.

Relies On Dulles' Ideas

Eisenhower said he had read the speech only in abbreviated form, but: "I would say this: He must be talking about shooting to stop us from doing our duty. After all, that is what is going to happen if it happens. We are not saying we are going to shoot our way into Berlin."

In any foreign ministers conference on the Berlin situation, Eisenhower let it be known he intends to rely heavily on the ideas and experience of ailing John Foster Dulles, even if the secretary of state is unable to be present.

Dulles has been stricken with a recurrence of cancer. But Eisenhower said the doctors have assured him that "there is nothing in his disease that is going to touch his heart and his head, and that is what we want."

Eisenhower denied reports that Dulles has offered to resign as a result of his illness. The President said he has not discussed a possible successor with anyone.

Wants Dulles To Stay On Job

Eisenhower said in forceful tones: "Therefore, as long as Secretary Dulles believes that he is in shape to carry on, he is exactly the person I want."

The President remarked that during World War II he asked Gen. George C. Marshall, then chief of staff, to send a certain corps commander in the U.S. to him in Europe right away. But Marshall wired back that the man was "so crippled out in Walter Reed (Hospital) that the doctors won't assure you that he can move around."

The President said he told Marshall to "send the man and I will send him to battle in a litter, because he can do better that way than most people I know. Now, I feel this way about Secretary Dulles..."

Dulles' Doctors Start Radiation Therapy Friday

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said Wednesday Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' cancer in no way impairs his basic ability to do his job better than anybody else could.

"The doctors have assured me," Eisenhower told a news conference, "there is nothing in his disease that is going to touch his heart and his head, and that is what we want."

The President said he and Dulles decided in a talk at Walter Reed Army Medican Center Tuesday to go right ahead with previously arranged efforts to negotiate a peaceful settlement of the German crisis with the Soviet Union.

Eisenhower denied reports that Dulles had specifically offered to resign during his new illness or that the White House was sounding out Republican leaders on a possible successor to Dulles.

"As long as Secretary Dulles believes that he is in shape to carry on," Eisenhower said, "he is exactly the person I want."

The secretary's doctors announced meanwhile they have unanimously agreed on a plan of treatment, starting with radiation therapy on Friday.

A medical bulletin issued by Maj. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, hospital commandant in charge of the case, said:

"The secretary is continuing to get up. He is walking more and more each day and sitting up longer each day."

The State Department said Dulles discussed official matters for about 12 minutes by telephone Wednesday with his special assistant, Joseph N. Greene Jr. No official documents were sent to Dulles the department said, but he is reading newspapers, books and magazines, and is receiving family visitors.

Integration Of Miami School Approved

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Dade County School Board has voted to admit four Negroes to an all-white elementary school in Miami.

The board decided Wednesday to make the Orchard Villa Elementary School, in a neighborhood into which some Negro families have moved, a "pilot school" for integration of the races. The idea has the endorsement of Gov. LeRoy Collins.

The pupils will be admitted to the school at the beginning of the fall term next September.

Tranquilized Steak Wins Writers' Unanimous Vote

NEW YORK (AP)—A carefully chosen group of some of New York's foremost eaters — all of them writers—lunched Wednesday on tranquilized sirloin steak.

They also lunched on nontranquilized sirloin steak.

A king-size sample of each type was set before the assemblage of 34 persons, mostly food and science editors with a sprinkling of amateur gourmets.

These giant sirloins were dished out to the lucky few in the plush Williamsburg suite of the Savoy-Hilton Hotel by the Jensen-Salsbery Laboratories of Kansas City.

The Jensen - Salsbery Laboratories did this because they want to sell their newly developed tranquilizer to the cattlemen who raise the meat for the tables of America.

The idea, to try to sum it up in one small bite, is this:

Just as tranquilizers quiet human beings, these make the cattle feel good and they don't mind the arduous and unsettling trip. Because they don't get nervous and excited, their blood sugar content remains low.

This in turn keeps the animals from losing weight, getting bruised and developing shipping fever. The meat is supposed to be tastier and tenderer.

Each steak served at the luncheon was marked, one with a red tag and one with a yellow. When both were consumed, the writers wrote down secretly which they liked best.

The vote came out: red, 25; yellow, 0. The red, it turned out, came from a tranquilized steer.

Eisenhower Stops Over At Tex. Base

U.S. And Mexican Leaders Will Meet Today At Acapulco

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — President Eisenhower stopped off in his native state of Texas Wednesday night en route to Mexico after a five and a half hour flight from Washington which he devoted largely to chatting with Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson.

Johnson, whose home is about 50 miles from Austin, and Rep. Homer Thornberry (D-Tex.), rode south aboard the Columbine III at Eisenhower's invitation.

Eisenhower also invited House Speaker Sam Rayburn and Rep. Bruce Alger (R-Tex.) to make the trip to Austin, but they were unable to accept.

Eisenhower stopped here to spend the night at Bergstrom Air Force Base before continuing on early Thursday to Acapulco, the colorful Mexican resort on the Pacific coast where he will be the guest of Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

Governor Meets Ike

Gov. Price Daniel of Texas and Mayor Tom Miller of Austin were on hand to give the President a warm greeting as the Columbine pulled off the two-mile long runway at the big Strategic Air Command base.

Johnson continued on his way to his home at Johnson City, but Daniel hopped into the car with the President and accompanied him to the air base quarters reserved for distinguished visitors.

Eisenhower was scheduled to take off for Acapulco Thursday at 6 a.m., arriving in the Mexican resort for a two-day visit at about 10 a.m. (e.s.t.).

To Take Yacht Ride

Assistant secretary for inter-American affairs, Roy Rubottom Jr., and the President's brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, were the only officials to accompany the President for the informal talks in luxurious Acapulco with Lopez Mateos.

The President and Lopez Mateos will get acquainted on a yacht ride over sparkling Acapulco Bay and over a lunch and two dinners in two of the most elegant hotels in this hemisphere.

His visit is scheduled to end after a dinner Friday night, when Lopez Mateos will accompany him to the airport for an expected departure by 11 p.m. e.s.t.

Jury Weighs Tax Charges Against Beck

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — A federal court jury Wednesday began deliberating government charges that former Teamsters Union President Dave Beck evaded $240,000 in income taxes.

The jury of eight men and four women got the case on the 60th day of Beck's trial, which began Nov. 10.

The millionaire ex-labor boss is charged with six counts of tax evasion. Four counts cover the years 1950-53. The two others accuse him of helping prepare fraudulent tax returns for the Teamster organizations.

Each count carries a maximum penalty of five years' imprisonment and a $10,000 fine.

In the three-month trial, which cost more than $200,000, the government called 115 witnesses. The defense called one, an accountant, and completed its case in a little more than an hour.

Hoffa Raps AFL-CIO For "Double Ethics"

WASHINGTON (AP) — Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa said Wednesday he wants to get his union back into the AFL-CIO, but won't ask to be taken back.

Hoffa accused the AFL-CIO of applying a double standard of ethics in expelling the Teamsters on the charges that it is riddled with corruption, but letting the Carpenters Union remain in the federation.

The Senate Labor - Management Committee has leveled corruption charges at officials of both unions, including Hoffa and Carpenters' President Maurice Hutcheson.

Hoffa threatened to call a strike against the Carpenters Union as an employer, if that union resists Teamsters efforts to organize workers at the Carpenters' big citrus fruit groves near Lakeland, Fla.

Amateur Salvagers Pick Tanker Clean

OCEAN CITY, Md. (AP) — Watermen along Maryland's ocean front are finding good fishing aboard the wrecked African Queen.

The big tanker ground to a stop on a shoal last Dec. 30 nine miles off this resort town and broke in two. A salvage firm worked over the wreckage for five weeks, then gave up.

Then her owners, African Enterprises, Ltd., and the insurance underwriters said they were abandoning the vessel.

That was last Friday morning.

By mid afternoon, a couple of Ocean City clammers and fishermen were headed for the wreck. By Sunday, 12 boats were lying off the two sections, removing furnishings, radios, paint, rope, cable, steel posts, foam rubber mattresses and even the wash bowls from the bathrooms.

Standard equipment for these amateur salvagers was a heavy hammer, screw driver and stilson wrench.

One trawler came in with 150 five-gallon cans of marine paint. And two boats of watermen from Lewes, Del., are hard at work with big wrenches and sledge hammers on the valves and fittings along the tanker's catwalk. Such valves retail for as much as $400.

One of the leaders in the local salvage movement is Fred Rick Savage Jr., a clammer here. Although not the first on the scene, he was the first to attack the four-story high bow section.

He started down the hold and hit the paint locker. Other salvagers moved in with him and it took them two days to strike bottom. They estimated 1,500 gallons of paint.

"I'd say she's picked about clean now," Savage said Tuesday night, adding he doubted he would return Wednesday. Other salvagers felt the same way.

"It's the most fascinating thing I've ever done," said Dale (Dick) Brown of Ocean City, a floor sander by trade. He injured a leg in a 15 foot fall during salvage work. But he's got a Sperry gyroscope to show for his work.

More Liberal Compensation Laws Opposed

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Spokesmen for employers and insurers warned legislators Wednesday that liberalizing Maryland's workmen's compensation laws would create an unfavorable industrial climate in Maryland.

"I don't say we're all going to pack up our bags and leave," said one, "but costs (to employers under two proposed bills) would be so far out of line with competitive states that it would be awfully bad."

This opinion was expressed by William S. Wilson, representing the Self-Insurers Assn. of Maryland and the Baltimore Assn. of Commerce.

One of the bills concerned would strike out the word "accidental" from the compensation law and allow workers compensation for any injuries arising out of and in the course of their employment.

Wilson said this proposal, which has been rejected by several previous Legislatures, would amount to a "health insurance" act and would "open the floodgates to cases of constructive fraud."

Another proposal fought by the employers was one to raise weekly payments for permanent partial disability from $25 to $40 maximum and from $15 to $18 minimum. It would also raise the total allowable from $12,500 to $20,000.

Wilson said such a 62 per cent increase is "unrealistic" and would have an adverse effect on Maryland economy. Del. Tydings (D-Harford) and John Trimmer, representing Maryland builders and contractors, suggested it would work a special hardship on small businessmen.

The first bill was introduced by Del. Stark (D-Balto 5th). The second was sponsored by both Stark and Del. Abramson (D-Balto 4th).

Pilot Believes Plane Fired On

BALTIMORE (AP) — Were they flares . . . bullets . . . or what, that ripped past the nose of an airliner as it tried to land Tuesday night?

And were they aimed at the plane?

The pilot of the Capital Airlines Viscount, Capt. R. M. Stair, told Friendship International Airport officials he believes his plane was fired on as it prepared to land.

The plane, carrying eight passengers and a crew of three, was bound from Chicago to Washington with stops at Pittsburgh and Baltimore.

State police said the pilot reported that what looked like four tracer bullets whizzed past the plane's nose and left wing. This was at 11:15 p. m. as the plane was at 1,400 feet.

At about the same time State Trooper Robert Stewart said he spotted what appeared to be a dozen flares low in the sky.

Boy Admits Theft Of Rings, Watches

CRISFIELD, Md. (AP)—A 17-year-old youth who told police he mailed back the loot from a jewelry store burglary was charged Wednesday with taking $3,270 in rings and watches from the store.

Police Chief John S. Holland said Leon McDorman, 17, of Crisfield, was charged with breaking and entering and grand larceny. He was freed in $2,500 bond after waiving preliminary hearing before Magistrate Arthur Dryden.

Holland said the youth admitted taking the jewelry last week from the store of Richard McDorman, no relation. Holland said the youth told him he later mailed it to McDorman but the jeweler contends about 20 ladies watches still are missing. The jeweler said he got back 13 rings and 32 watches.

Judge E.McMaster Duer waived juvenile court jurisdiction.

Jukebox Boss' Loan Ventures Aired At Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the top men in the New York jukebox industry was pictured Wednesday as having a hand in loaning millions of dollars to gangsters at interest rates running as high as 198 per cent.

Named in testimony as a key figure in such transactions was Charles Bernoff. He was described at the Senate Labor-Management Committee hearing as the third largest jukebox operator in New York.

At one point, committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy quoted Bernoff as demanding in a letter that a debtor should be made to "bleed . . . till he pays."

When Bernoff was summoned to testify about the allegedly illegal money-lending ventures, he refused to answer questions, pleaded the Fifth Amendment.

One of those fingering Bernoff was Irving Mishel, a convicted swindler who said he had been a silent partner with Bernoff in Admiral Trading Corp., a money-lending firm.

Mishel now is serving a 10-to 20-year sentence in Sing Sing on a stock swindle conviction. He said Bernoff's testimony at his trial helped to convict him in 1953. Committee counsel Kennedy said Mishel was let out on temporary parole to appear at the Senate hearing.

Mishel was listed in the jukebox field as president of the Regal Music Co.

He said the loans went to persons engaged in narcotics, prostitution and gambling, but he insisted he never knowingly made any loan to a person involved in the narcotics racket.

Humphrey May Enter Primaries

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), is considering entering half a dozen state presidential primaries to test his strength in the 1960 Democratic presidential race, the senator's friends said Wednesday.

They reported he probably would enter the Democratic primary in his home state of Minnesota, provided the Legislature does not do away with it, as well a those in Wisconsin and South Dakota.

Further west, he was said to be considering either the Oregon or Montana primary, and perhaps both. Pennsylvania was listed as a possible site for an eastern bid.

A decision by Humphrey to jump into the primary race, probably would make him the most active challenger to Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination.

Mother, Daughter Shot Accidentally

WASHINGTON (AP)—A sleeping mother and her young daughter were shot today when the child apparently knocked a pistol from her mother's lap.

Neither was wounded seriously. Mrs. James L. McLemore, 26, suffered a wound of the shin. The same bullet broke a little finger of 5-year-old Sylvia Anne.

Police were told that Mrs. McElmore fell asleep in the living room after having been aroused from bed by a noise in the family's second-floor apartment. The .22-caliber pistol was in her lap. Police theorized that the weapon went off when the child left her bedroom and attempted to crawl upon her mother's lap, knocking the pistol to the floor.

U.S. To Bill Russia For Downed Plane

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States will send Russia a bill for about three million dollars for the Air Force transport plane downed in Soviet Armenia last Sept. 2, officials said Wednesday.

Its chances of collecting are virtually nil. Since World War II, U.S. claims of nearly eight million dollars have been lodged against Moscow for five U.S. planes shot down by Soviet fighters. Russia has paid only $724,947, or half of one claim.

A specific claim for the unarmed Air Force transport, which this country charges was shot down deliberately by Soviet fighters, has not yet been determined. But officials noted that the plane cost about $2,450,000. This did not include expensive communications equipment.

Town Has 40-Proof Tap Water; Consumption Rises

FRANKLINTON, N. C. (UPI) — They said it couldn't be done! But it was. The little community of Franklinton is probably the only one in American that has 40-proof water coming out of its taps.

The town's water supply was accidentally spiked with straight corn whisky, and the local tap water now has a kick it never had before. Judging by an increase in water consumption, some of the residents really like it.

As a matter of fact, the town fathers are now wondering how they can legally continue spiking the water if the new beverage really catches on with the residents.

The tipsy tale started when county alcoholic control officers raided a still just outside town. They dumped several thousand gallons of mash and "white lightning" into a stream near the still.

Little did they realize that the stream ran into the pond which is Franklinton's only water source. But officers learned quickly when residents began reporting that their water had a strange taste.

Boy Admits Theft Of Rings, Watches

CRISFIELD, Md. (AP)—A 17-year-old youth who told police he mailed back the loot from a jewelry store burglary was charged Wednesday with taking $3,270 in rings and watches from the store.

Police Chief John S. Holland said Leon McDorman, 17, of Crisfield, was charged with breaking and entering and grand larceny. He was freed in $2,500 bond after waiving preliminary hearing before Magistrate Arthur Dryden.

Holland said the youth admitted taking the jewelry last week from the store of Richard McDorman, no relation. Holland said the youth told him he later mailed it to McDorman but the jeweler contends about 20 ladies watches still are missing. The jeweler said he got back 13 rings and 32 watches.

Judge E.McMaster Duer waived juvenile court jurisdiction.

Jukebox Boss' Loan Ventures Aired At Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the top men in the New York jukebox industry was pictured Wednesday as having a hand in loaning millions of dollars to gangsters at interest rates running as high as 198 per cent.

Named in testimony as a key figure in such transactions was Charles Bernoff. He was described at the Senate Labor-Management Committee hearing as the third largest jukebox operator in New York.

At one point, committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy quoted Bernoff as demanding in a letter that a debtor should be made to "bleed . . . till he pays."

When Bernoff was summoned to testify about the allegedly illegal money-lending ventures, he refused to answer questions, pleaded the Fifth Amendment.

One of those fingering Bernoff was Irving Mishel, a convicted swindler who said he had been a silent partner with Bernoff in Admiral Trading Corp., a money-lending firm.

Mishel now is serving a 10-to 20-year sentence in Sing Sing on a stock swindle conviction. He said Bernoff's testimony at his trial helped to convict him in 1953. Committee counsel Kennedy said Mishel was let out on temporary parole to appear at the Senate hearing.

Mishel was listed in the jukebox field as president of the Regal Music Co.

He said the loans went to persons engaged in narcotics, prostitution and gambling, but he insisted he never knowingly made any loan to a person involved in the narcotics racket.

Humphrey May Enter Primaries

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) is considering entering half a dozen state presidential primaries to test his strength in the 1960 Democratic presidential race, the senator's friends said Wednesday.

They reported he probably would enter the Democratic primary in his home state of Minnesota, provided the Legislature does not do away with it, as well a those in Wisconsin and South Dakota.

Further west, he was said to be considering either the Oregon or Montana primary, and perhaps both. Pennsylvania was listed as a possible site for an eastern bid.

A decision by Humphrey to jump into the primary race, probably would make him the most active challenger to Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination.

Mother, Daughter Shot Accidentally

WASHINGTON (AP)—A sleeping mother and her young daughter were shot today when the child apparently knocked a pistol from her mother's lap.

Neither was wounded seriously. Mrs. James L. McLemore, 26, suffered a wound of the shin. The same bullet broke a little finger of 5-year-old Sylvia Anne.

Police were told that Mrs. McElmore fell asleep in the living room after having been aroused from bed by a noise in the family's second-floor apartment. The .22-caliber pistol was in her lap. Police theorized that the weapon went off when the child left her bedroom and attempted to crawl upon her mother's lap, knocking the pistol to the floor.

U.S. To Bill Russia For Downed Plane

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States will send Russia a bill for about three million dollars for the Air Force transport plane downed in Soviet Armenia last Sept. 2, officials said Wednesday.

Its chances of collecting are virtually nil. Since World War II, U.S. claims of nearly eight million dollars have been lodged against Moscow for five U.S. planes shot down by Soviet fighters. Russia has paid only $724,947, or half of one claim.

A specific claim for the unarmed Air Force transport, which this country charges was shot down deliberately by Soviet fighters, has not yet been determined. But officials noted that the plane cost about $2,450,000. This did not include expensive communications equipment.

Town Has 40-Proof Tap Water; Consumption Rises

FRANKLINTON, N. C. (UPI) — They said it couldn't be done! But it was. The little community of Franklinton is probably the only one in American that has 40-proof water coming out of its taps.

The town's water supply was accidentally spiked with straight corn whisky, and the local tap water now has a kick it never had before. Judging by an increase in water consumption, some of the residents really like it.

As a matter of fact, the town fathers are now wondering how they can legally continue spiking the water if the new beverage really catches on with the residents.

The tipsy tale started when county alcoholic control officers raided a still just outside town. They dumped several thousand gallons of mash and "white lightning" into a stream near the still. Little did they realize that the stream ran into the pond which is Franklinton's only water source. But officers learned quickly when residents, began reporting that their water had a strange taste.

Delegates Approve Bill For Fire Tax In LaVale

A bill to create a special taxing area for fire protection purposes in three Allegany County districts served by the LaVale Volunteer Fire Company was approved by the county's six delegates at a meeting yesterday in Annapolis.

Del. Fred B. Driscoll, delegation chairman, said the bill will be introduced at the request of the fire company.

A spokesman for the unit said parts of Districts 5, 6 and 29 would be covered in the event the bill passes.

The measure provides for a referendum 90 days after June 1 when the bill would become effective and for public meetings prior to the voting to explain the purposes and effects of the measure.

A tax of not more than ten cents on each $100 of real property would be provided.

The fire company spokesman pointed out that a budget would be prepared that would include the department's income from festivals, carnivals and rental of the hall.

The overall figure would have the income deducted when it is presented to the Board of Allegany County Commissioners.

Then the commissioners would levy the tax amount needed to provide the difference between the total amount, less the fire company's income.

This measure would provide the first fire tax in the county, and the department spokesman said it is being sponsored to bring about an equality of contribution toward fire protection.

The annual fund drive results in a few carrying the load of donations each year, with many residents failing to contribute, bill backers state.

In many cases the amount of the tax will be actually less than the residents' contributions, the spokesman said.

Approve Plan

VIENNA (UPI) — The Austrian government has approved a plan under which this country would pay $6,600,050 to compensate Jews and other persons who were persecuted for racial, religious or political reasons during the Nazi era in Austria, it was announced Wednesday. The money will be reserved for persons who lost their property in Austria during the years of the Nazi regime.

Senate Acts Upon Three County Bills

Action was taken yesterday in the State Senate on three Allegany County bills, Sen. Charles M. See announced.

Yesterday Sen. See gave a favorable report on Senate Bill 58 which would provide for $50 monthly pension payments to retired Allegany County school teachers.

He said three clarifying amendments were added to the bill, with one defining certain words. Another states that if the state increases its share in the teacher pension, the payment would be null and void.

Sen. See said he would introduce a bill concerning the Allegany County Sheriff's office, which he said he understands has been agreed to by the county commissioners.

The measure provides for the sheriff to have free rent and maintenance in the living quarters adjacent to the jail.

The senator said this has always been considered part of the sheriff's salary which is only $4800 a year. If the free rent is not provided, he explained, then the salary should be raised.

The bill also allows deputies to eat their meals at the jail when they are on duty.

And lastly, it authorizes or enables the appointment of a clerk-bookkeeper for the sheriff at a salary to be agreed upon by the county commissioner and the sheriff.

This clerk is to make all reports to the court, judge and county commissioners, Sen. See said.

Sen. See also introduced yesterday a bill providing that sales contracts should be kept on file for five years. In this county, they have been kept for three years.

Decision Against LaVale Zoning Board Is Appealed

An appeal has been filed with the Maryland Court of Appeals from a decision of Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris against the LaVale Zoning Board.

The appeal was taken by the LaVale board and Arnold M. Arnone, a party plaintiff to the appeal and a resident of LaVale. Leslie J. Clark is attorney for the appellants.

Judge Harris ruled against the Zoning Board in an appeal which was heard before him last month. Harry P. and Dorothy E. Lucas, owners of a property which the Rish Equipment Company wanted to rent, filed the appeal in Circuit Court as the aggrieved parties.

The Zoning Board had denied the Rish firm an occupancy permit to use the Lucas building. The Lucas couple had operated a truck repair and sales business on the premises for some years and had a permit on a non-conforming use basis.

Judge Harris ruled in his decision on the Lucas appeal that the Rish firm's use of the property would only be an "intensification" of the non-conforming use which had been in effect previously.

The Rish firm said it would sell and service heavy duty equipment such as graders, loaders and similar construction equipment. They also said in their application they would do repair work mostly in the field when equipment would become disabled and not on the garage premises.

DAV Officers Are Installed

DeSoto said any veteran or family of a veteran needing help with Veterans Administration claims can obtain it at 113 South Center Street, the post home. Last year DeSoto handled 385 claims.

The Lloyd's summary does not record shipbuilding in the Soviet Union and Communist China, from which data is not available.

Blames United States

Muennich, however, made no mention of the retaliatory measures Communist Hungary had announced previously it would take against the United States because of the "abnormal situation."

The first reformatory in the United States was established in New York in 1824.

H. L. McDonald New City Fire Lieutenant

Two orders affecting the Fire Department were approved at Monday's meeting of the Mayor and City Council.

Commissioner Philmore F. Fleming's order regarding the appointment of a lieutenant in the department was approved, as was his request for a leave of absence for a fireman who has been absent from his duties because of illness.

Harold L. McDonald was promoted to lieutenant from the position of chauffeur and mechanic. The order noted that McDonald was on the promotional list for lieutenant and had been certified by the Civil Service Board. Fleming said the department has been short a lieutenant since last July. McDonald's salary in his new position was set at $316 monthly.

The leave of absence was approved for William L. Feeney, effective February 27 when he will have used up all his vacation time. Following the council action, the order was referred to the Civil Service Board for approval.

Elks Plan Visits To Brother Lodges

A group of members of Frostburg Lodge No. 470, BPO Elks, is planning to pay social visits to other lodges in this area, in an effort to arouse more social activity between the brother orders.

Jack Dillon, chairman, and Woodrow Layman of the Frostburg Elks and Mrs. Mary Margaret Nickel, representing lady Elks, plan to accompany groups of Elks to Cumberland, Bedford, Keyser and Meyersdale lodges, and to invite groups from those lodges to visit the Frostburg Elks.

From time to time, a spokesman for the committee said, tours and trips will be planned, such as motor caravans to Johnstown to attend ice hockey games, to Pittsburgh, Baltimore and Washington to see baseball and football games, and other tours and visits of interest. Several social programs are also being considered.

Elks interested in the idea should contact John O'Brien or other Frostburg Elks at OV 9-6470 or call at the Elks Home.

Adoption Change Is Proposed

The Allegany County delegation to the General Assembly agreed yesterday to introduce a measure which would include Allegany County in the statewide adoption law.

Allegany and a number of other counties have been exempt from the general adoption law for many years. This proposal has the backing of the Allegany County Bar Association and was recommended by Judge Morgan C. Harris.

Placing Allegany County's adoption procedure under the general state law will provide a number of changes. Included will be an investigation and report by the Welfare Board, the form of the petition would be changed and the type of hearing conducted would also be changed.

Local attorneys said there will not be any material changes but the measure would have the state adoption procedure apply here to make the county conform with the majority of the counties in Maryland.

Rotarians Get Briefing On Chamber Work

Rotarians were told Tuesday that the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce offers people of all vocations an opportunity to work together for this city's progress.

Robert C. Petersen, manager, said a chamber of commerce is people — in Cumberland's case over 400 people—working together to do those things for the community which they cannot do individually.

Mr. Petersen, principal speaker at a luncheon meeting of the Cumberland Rotary Club, was introduced by George B. Newman, president of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company.

The Chamber's activities, usually in the field of commercial, industrial and civic development, are chiefly accomplished by committees, he said.

Mr. Petersen outlined the work being done by committees on legislation, area planning, C & O Parkway, convention and tourist, legislation and business relations and education.

Plans for the Chamber's $250,000 industrial development campaign were outlined.

H. L. McDonald New City Fire Lieutenant

Two orders affecting the Fire Department were approved at Monday's meeting of the Mayor and City Council.

Commissioner Philmore F. Fleming's order regarding the appointment of a lieutenant in the department was approved, as was his request for a leave of absence for a fireman who has been absent from his duties because of illness.

Harold L. McDonald was promoted to lieutenant from the position of chauffeur and mechanic. The order noted that McDonald was on the promotional list for lieutenant and had been certified by the Civil Service Board. Fleming said the department has been short a lieutenant since last July. McDonald's salary in his new position was set at $316 monthly.

The leave of absence was approved for William L. Feeney, effective February 27 when he will have used up all his vacation time. Following the council action, the order was referred to the Civil Service Board for approval.

Young Democrats Plan Eighth Annual Jackson Day Dinner

Members of the Young Democrats of Allegany County have been invited to attend the eighth annual Jackson Day dinner at the Emerson Hotel, Baltimore, March 7 at 6:30 p. m., sponsored by the Young Democrats of Maryland.

William B. Orndorff, state treasurer, and Mrs. Anne B. Everline, local members, have tickets and reservations may be made with either of them.

Miss Jacqueline Smelkinson, Baltimore, chairman for the dinner advised Mr. Orndorff that a record crowd is expected and a number of state officials and national officials are expected. A special guest of honor will be Gov. J. Millard Tawes.

Elks Plan Visits To Brother Lodges

A group of members of Frostburg Lodge No. 470, BPO Elks, is planning to pay social visits to other lodges in this area, in an effort to arouse more social activity between the brother orders.

Jack Dillon, chairman, and Woodrow Layman of the Frostburg Elks and Mrs. Mary Margaret Nickel, representing lady Elks, plan to accompany groups of Elks to Cumberland, Bedford, Keyser and Meyersdale lodges, and to invite groups from those lodges to visit the Frostburg Elks.

From time to time, a spokesman for the committee said, tours and trips will be planned, such as motor caravans to Johnstown to attend ice hockey games, to Pittsburgh, Baltimore and Washington to see baseball and football games, and other tours and visits of interest. Several social programs are also being considered.

Elks interested in the idea should contact John O'Brien or other Frostburg Elks at OV 9-6470 or call at the Elks Home.

Adoption Change Is Proposed

The Allegany County delegation to the General Assembly agreed yesterday to introduce a measure which would include Allegany County in the statewide adoption law.

Allegany and a number of other counties have been exempt from the general adoption law for many years. This proposal has the backing of the Allegany County Bar Association and was recommended by Judge Morgan C. Harris.

Placing Allegany County's adoption procedure under the general state law will provide a number of changes. Included will be an investigation and report by the Welfare Board, the form of the petition would be changed and the type of hearing conducted would also be changed.

Local attorneys said there will not be any material changes but the measure would have the state adoption procedure apply here to make the county conform with the majority of the counties in Maryland.

Rotarians Get Briefing On Chamber Work

Rotarians were told Tuesday that the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce offers people of all vocations an opportunity to work together for this city's progress.

Robert C. Petersen, manager, said a chamber of commerce is people — in Cumberland's case over 400 people—working together to do those things for the community which they cannot do individually.

Mr. Petersen, principal speaker at a luncheon meeting of the Cumberland Rotary Club, was introduced by George B. Newman, president of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company.

The Chamber's activities, usually in the field of commercial, industrial and civic development, are chiefly accomplished by committees, he said.

Mr. Petersen outlined the work being done by committees on legislation, area planning, C & O Parkway, convention and tourist, legislation and business relations and education.

Plans for the Chamber's $250,000 industrial development campaign were outlined.

Local Marine Takes Part In Celebration

Pfc. Benjamin H. Dorsey Jr., son of Benjamin H. Dorsey, RFD 1, recently took part in two U. S. Marine Corps unit anniversaries at Camp Lejeune, N. C., while serving with the 10th Marine Regiment.

On February 2 the regiment joined other units in celebrating the Second Marine Division's 18th anniversary. Previously on January 15 the regiment observed its 41st birthday as the oldest artillery unit in the Marine Corps.

Hardy County Grand Jurors Make Report

Youth Faces Assault Count

MOOREFIELD — Hardy County grand jurors at Moorefield returned two felony indictments against Robert Herman Shanholtz, 16, who is accused of attacking a woman here.

Indicted on charges of rape and assault with intent to rape, the youth was examined yesterday to determine his mental capabilities. He has been held in jail since the alleged attack last month.

Following his arrest in January, Shanholtz waived a preliminary hearing and was incarcerated for grand jury action. Normally he would have been tried in Juvenile Court, but the nature of the case warranted stricter action.

Other felony indictments brought in by the jurors included: Otis Lee May, felonious assault; C. E. Payne, worthless check; Charles Junior Crawford, Frederick R. Metzger and Douglas Lurty Smith, breaking and entering.

Misdemeanor indictments were returned against Walter James Martin, motor charge; Otis Lee May, resisting arrest, and Benjamin D. Mathias, simple assault.

Criminal trials are expected to begin March 23.

They said the pennies were part of a collection of coins dating from 1909 through 1953. City Police Detective Lieutenant James E. Van and Detective Thomas J. See indicated that possible evidence was found at the scene.

Sgt. Baker said the Mt. Savage man has admitted participation in the theft of several automobile tires, some merchandise and a smal. amount of cash from the Cities Service Station at Corriganville this past December.

The man was sentenced in Pennsylvania on a charge of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle. After the conviction in Pennsylvania authorities from this area placed a detainer against the man.

Local authorities pointed out that the Mt. Savage man has been arrested and convicted 11 times since March of 1949 on criminal charges and is currently on parole from the Maryland House of Correction.

17 Classrooms Sought For Deaf School At Romney

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Construction of 17 new classrooms and the elimination of several makeshift classrooms at the West Virginia School for the Deaf and Blind at Romney was recommended Wednesday by State Fire Marshal Carl Weimer.

Weimer made his recommendations in a report to Gov. Cecil H. Underwood and members of the Legislature following a weekend inspection of the blind and deaf schools. The State Board of Education has asked the Legislature for $400,000 to construct a new classroom building.

The fire marshal pointed out that classes are being conducted in two rooms on either side of the stage in the auditorium, in the principal's office, in the library, in dormitories and other places, creating fire hazards for the 112 blind and 214 deaf children.

County No Longer Needs $750 Fund For Jap Beetles

One $750 appropriation which appeared in the Allegany County budget for the 1958-59 fiscal year will not be needed when the Board of County Commissioners establishes the 1959-60 levy at the Court House Tuesday, April 21.

A letter from George S. Langford, state entomologist at the University of Maryland, to County Agent Joseph M. Steger, has informed Mr. Steger that after June the use of milky disease in battling Japanese beetles will not be used. That means the county will not have to appropriate $750 to match the state's apporpriation in this beetle battle.

Mr. Langford did report in the letter, which was referred to the county commissioners this week, that a limited amount of spore dust will be available for use in areas with serious or acute Japanese beetle infestations.

Witt Returned Here To Face Court Hearing

Authorities last night said Robert H. Witt, 29, of Mt. Savage, held in Allegany County Jail on charges of breaking and entering and larceny, has indicated he will ask for an immediate trial.

Sgt. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the State Police, said Witt had been serving a sentence in Cambria County Jail in Ebensburg, Pa.

He was returned to the county jail here Tuesday by Sgt. Baker and Trooper Milton G. Hart. A federal detainer has been placed against Witt, who is wanted for violation of parole. He had served some time in the Ohio State Reformatory and was placed on parole.

Sgt. Baker said the Mt. Savage man has admitted participation in the theft of several automobile tires, some merchandise and a smal. amount of cash from the Cities Service Station at Corriganville this past December.

The man was sentenced in Pennsylvania on a charge of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle. After the conviction in Pennsylvania authorities from this area placed a detainer against the man.

Local authorities pointed out that the Mt. Savage man has been arrested and convicted 11 times since March of 1949 on criminal charges and is currently on parole from the Maryland House of Correction.

Hancock Mother Mrs. Maryland Heart Sunday

BALTIMORE (AP) — A Washington County mother of two children was selected Wednesday to serve as "Mrs. Maryland Heart Sunday" for the 1959 heart fund campaign.

Mrs. Kenneth S. Hill of Hancock was selected from a list of 30,000 Maryland women by Paul T. Frisch, general chairman of the state's 1958 drive.

Frisch said Mrs. Hill was selected for her help during the current campaign and for her service in the 1958 and 1957 heart drives.

W. Va. Bill Would Aid State Parks In Area

Blackwater Falls State Park and Cacapon State Park are included in a bill introduced yesterday in the West Virginia State Senate which would allocate money for improvements by the State Conservation Commission.

The money which would be allocated at Blackwater Falls is $44,000, while $48,000 would be allocated at Cacapon State Park. The bill would limit the commission to the amount of money spent for each park and the money would be provided later by the Legislature.

Grocers Hear County Commissioners Speak

County Commissioners John J. Rowan and John Tucker Mason explained some phases of county government and financial problems to about 80 members of the Independent Retail Food Dealers of Western Maryland at a meeting Tuesday night at Central YMCA.

William G. Beier, president of the grocers, reported on a hearing at Annapolis last week on Del. William Walsh's bill to authorize the State Roads Commission to buy land along U. S. 40 in Western Maryland for development as recreation areas.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the YMCA served a buffet supper after the meeting. The next meeting will be held March 17.

17 Classrooms Sought For Deaf School At Romney

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Construction of 17 new classrooms and the elimination of several makeshift classrooms at the West Virginia School for the Deaf and Blind at Romney was recommended Wednesday by State Fire Marshal Carl Weimer.

Weimer made his recommendations in a report to Gov. Cecil H. Underwood and members of the Legislature following a weekend inspection of the blind and deaf schools. The State Board of Education has asked the Legislature for $400,000 to construct a new classroom building.

The fire marshal pointed out that classes are being conducted in two rooms on either side of the stage in the auditorium, in the principal's office, in the library, in dormitories and other places, creating fire hazards for the 112 blind and 214 deaf children.

County No Longer Needs $750 Fund For Jap Beetles

One $750 appropriation which appeared in the Allegany County budget for the 1958-59 fiscal year will not be needed when the Board of County Commissioners establishes the 1959-60 levy at the Court House Tuesday, April 21.

A letter from George S. Langford, state entomologist at the University of Maryland, to County Agent Joseph M. Steger, has informed Mr. Steger that after June the use of milky disease in battling Japanese beetles will not be used. That means the county will not have to appropriate $750 to match the state's apporpriation in this beetle battle.

Mr. Langford did report in the letter, which was referred to the county commissioners this week, that a limited amount of spore dust will be available for use in areas with serious or acute Japanese beetle infestations.

The Decline Of Ambassadors

Embassies — the sovereign domain of one country within the geographical confines of another—are receiving critical scrutiny by several governments to evaluate the service rendered for the money expended.

With modern transportation and communications bringing every capital within commuting distance of any other, several countries with an extensive and expensive network of foreign emissaries and staffs are wondering if tradition in this case isn't becoming too costly.

Ambassadors and other government representatives stationed in foreign lands traditionally have lived high on the social hog. It was considered essential that good diplomatic relations be cemented with proper social accoutrements befitting the only available representative of a distant land.

Recently, however, there has been a trend toward more direct negotiations between capitals. Cabinet ministers and other high echelon government officials personally conduct affairs of state with foreign governments, to the exclusion of the diplomatic corps. But million-dollar-a-year embassies continue to grow.

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles brought the matter into the open recently with criticism of the high cost of maintaining the U. S. embassy in Paris. This caused other governments to peer into their pocketbooks to see how much it was costing for diplomatic relations with their neighbors.

Diplomats, and embassies, have not become obsolete, but they have declined in importance. It is logical that the cost of maintaining them be kept in proper perspective.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Labor Speaks Up

In retrospect one must grant that the labor leaders who met with Anastas Mikoyan exhibited more intelligence and primal courage than the businessmen and bankers who met him.

At the labor luncheon for Mikoyan, James B. Carey of the I.U.E. started the discussion by calling attention to the fact that they met on the eighteenth anniversary of the announcement of the Four Freedoms by Franklin D. Roosevelt; and that the first of these freedoms was freedom of speech. Mikoyan said that the Russians have a high regard for Roosevelt and agreed with the principles of the Four Freedoms.

Whereupon Walter Reuther got into the conversation by stating that the only war that the American labor movement was interested in was a war against poverty, disease, hunger and illiteracy. Mikoyan agreed to that too. Mikoyan went on to say that war of any kind was an immoral method of settling disputes. (Read Marx's "Communist Manifesto" and Stalin's "Foundations of Leninism" to the contrary.)

Reuther then made the point that it is easy for Soviet Russia and the United States to agree "on pious phrases"—but in the practical implementation of these principles we have failed. He pointed to Germany as an example, advocating a unified Germany by free elections of the people of Germany.

Mikoyan ignored Reuther's proposal but gave the history and background of East German leaders and suggested that the American labor leaders would know more if they visited Russia. Carey then traced the C.I.O.'s attempt to work with the Soviet trade union movement immediately after World War II in the W.F.T.U. (World Federation of Trade Unions—a Communist front). He said that Soviet Russia made a mistake by capturing and controlling the W.F.T.U. because they thus forced the C.I.O. and the British Trade Union Congress to get out. Mikoyan acknowledged that the Russians make mistakes, but that good neighbors who have made mistakes could not let past mistakes dominate their future.

Reuther then described the working conditions of a General Motors worker whom he represented as an example of the gains that the American labor movement has made. He said that in view of the favorable condition of the American worker, the Russian propaganda line that the American worker is a wage slave makes no sense. Reuther indicated that the propaganda line of the Russians had not changed for the past 50 years. (40 would have been correct.)

Carey thereupon elaborated on the evolutionary improvement that the labor movement had experienced since Mikoyan's former visit to the United States. Mikoyan claimed that Russia recognized the wealth and higher standard of living of the American worker and that they used this as an incentive in speaking to the Russian workers.

Joseph A. Beirne, president of the Communications Workers of America, said that the average American worker in general supported the foreign policy of his government. It was Beirne who brought up the question of Hungary. He said Hungary was a situation where the workers were attempting to achieve self-determination and they were brutally slain or imprisoned. Beirne also wanted to know if American labor delegations, when they visited Russia, could visit prisons and labor camps and talk to the workers in their homes without interference.

Mikoyan guaranteed complete freedom for an American trade union delegation. He said that no American visa had been refused in 1958. Mikoyan rejected discussion of Hungary because it would take too long. He then chided the American labor leaders for blindly following the foreign policy of the American government.

With that Carey, Reuther and Beirne jumped on Mikoyan to the effect that they were free to criticize the policy of the American government. Mikoyan then got foxy. He said that he had not realized that labor exercised such an influence on government, calling attention to the fact that there was not even a Labor Party in the United States. Carey jokingly said that Russia did not have a Capitalist Party.

Carey then told Mikoyan how Soviet Russia messes up the economy of the world as it did in Finland, as it did by cancellation of the rice contracts in Iran and upsetting the economies of Bolivia and Malaya by dumping tin on the world market.

Mikoyan could only answer the various criticisms of Russian policy by saying that the labor leaders did not know the facts of Russia and they should come and see.

Ike Appoints Conflict-Of-Interest Official To Commerce Department

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Senators are scratching their heads as to how Ike happened to appoint two conflict-of-interest officials to the two highest posts in the Commerce Department—Secretary of Commerce and Under Secretary. Senators figure that the White House staff just wasn't on its toes.

In addition to Adm. Lewis Strauss, who helped conceal the notorious Dixon-Yates private utility conflict of interest, the new Under Secretary of Commerce, John J. Allen, is at cross-purposes with the public interest.

Congressman Allen, of Oakland, Calif., was defeated last year, and shortly thereafter was rewarded with a sub-cabinet post. It happens that he was the attorney who helped the Chinese gambling czar of North California, Chin Bok Hing, establish a tax-evasion trust fund and was thus cited in a Federal Court record which could easily have been read by the White House.

In addition the new Under Secretary of Commerce, when in Congress, introduced two private bills and one resolution for the benefit of Jess M. Ritchie who won headlines in the famous AD-X2 battery additive case.

When the Bureau of Standards ruled that AD-X2 when added to a storage battery did not improve or prolong its life, Sinclair Weeks, then Secretary of Commerce, fired Dr. Allen V. Astin as Director of the Bureau of Standards. The howl from the scientific world was so loud that Weeks reversed himself, ate crow and reinstated Dr. Astin.

By this time Jess Ritchie and AD-X2 had become a national issue. To settle the controversy, Secretary Weeks asked the National Academy of Sciences to decide the merits of the battery additive once and for all. It found that Dr. Astin and the Bureau were right. AD-X2 had no value.

Allen Gets Rewarded

Despite this, Congressman Allen introduced House Bill 3875 in the 84th Congress and again in the 85th to reimburse Jess Ritchie an indefinite amount at the expense of the taxpayers. Ritchie was claiming $2,369,064.32 alleged damages from Uncle Sam.

Both these private bills were blocked, thanks in part to the strong stand of Secretary Weeks who by this time had confessed his original boner and was fighting on the side of the taxpayer.

"This department recommended against the enactment of this bill," he wrote Congressman Emanuel Celler on April 10, 1957.

Subsequently, Congressman Allen introduced another resolution which managed to slip through the entire Judiciary Committee despite the formal objection of Congressman George P. Miller, who represents the neighboring district at Alameda, Calif. This resolution sent the AD-X2 claim to the U. S. Court of Claims for recommendation.

Finally, last November, Congressman Allen's constituents got wise and defeated him. Shortly thereafter, Eisenhower rewarded him by appointment to a post in his sub-cabinet—Under Secretary of Commerce.

In that post, Allen will now be in the conflicting position of having introduced legislation for the relief of Jess Ritchie which his own Commerce Department emphatically and vigorously says is not justified.

Jess M. Ritchie shall be compensated, says Allen in his bill, "for losses sustained as a result of the direct attack upon the worth of the product, battery AD-X2, by the Department of Commerce."

It will be interesting to see what the new Under Secretary of Commerce, Mr. Allen, and the new Secretary of Commerce, Admiral Strauss, do. It will also be interesting to see what Sen. Warren Magnuson of Washington does about their confirmation.

Fast-Talking Admiral

Adm. Arthur Radford is such a fast talker that he was once referred to on Capitol Hill as a "Fancy Dan Admiral." He is such a salesman that during a one-hour refueling stay in Iwo Jima he once talked Eisenhower into reversing the entire Far Eastern policy of the United States and as a result became Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

In Teheran recently, Admiral Radford used his fast-talking ability so effectively that he talked the Soviets out of an alliance with Iran.

What happened was that the Shah of Iran was disgruntled over American aloofness at the Baghdad Pact meeting in Karachi last month. So he sent a secret note to Moscow offering to sign a nonaggression pact which would prohibit the United States from using Iran's military bases.

We have spent millions developing these bases. They are part of the ring around Russia. So when the Kremlin got this secret note it sent Deputy Foreign Minister Semyenov to Teheran on the next plane.

It happened that Admiral Radford got there ahead of him on a special mission to study foreign aid. He was not supposed to handle diplomacy.

However, both the Russian diplomat and the American Admiral turned on the diplomatic pressure and a battle raged for two weeks in the back rooms of the Iranian Foreign Ministry. Finally Radford persuaded the Shah to stick with the United States in return for stronger American defense guarantees.

This was the backstage reason why Moscow came out with a blast last week accusing Iran of being "two-faced." Iran had invited the Soviet to send an envoy and then had rebuffed him. What Moscow didn't figure on was the fast-talking admiral who, though retired from the Navy, can still talk faster than a destroyer can shoot.

Nixon's Congressman

Democrat George Kasem, who now represents Vice President Nixon's district in California, carried it by 604 ballots last November. The returns were so nip and tuck on election night that his wife, Catherine, was awake all night watching the television and keeping in touch with her husband's headquarters by telephone.

However, their eight-year-old daughter, Janet, took it in her stride. When Kasem finally came home, weary but happy, he asked Janet if she had heard the news.

"Yes, you won, daddy," she replied. "Will you please fix me a sandwich?"

Proposal For A New Fourteenth Amendment

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—A new Amendment to the Federal Constitution is needed not only to clear up the conflicting decisions of the courts interpreting the Fourteenth Amendment on the subject of school integration but to establish firmly the basic rights of organizations of all kinds, including those of a fraternal, religious, educational and business nature.

For today, under the changeful rulings of varying personnel in the Supreme Court of the United States, a group of citizens, for instance, who form a partnership or a corporation cannot be sure of the "equal protection of the laws" of the states.

Under the dissenting opinions handed down repeatedly by a minority of the Justices, the Fourteenth Amendment has been held to apply to individuals only and not to groups of individuals.

Likewise, continuance of parochial schools is not fully assured from a legal standpoint. While a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in 1925 held invalid an Oregon law that required the attendance of all children in public schools, this ruling could be wiped out overnight by five Justices of the high court on the ground that public psychology is different from what it was when the first ruling was made and that public-school education is "inherently" better than private schooling.

Plainly, also, the voteless people of the District of Columbia do not enjoy the "equal protection" clause applicable to residents of the 49 states of the Union. Through a curious stretch of power by the Supreme Court in 1954, the school authorities of the city of Washington were ordered to obey the so-called implications of the Fourteenth Amendment, though nothing in the Constitution or in previous rulings had ever defined the Constitution that way for the people of a federal territory.

Also, sections 2, 3 and 4 of the Fourteenth Amendment have become obsolete because these referred only to persons once engaged in the War Between the States, all of whom now are dead. So these sections can be eliminated.

There are, moreover, serious doubts whether the Fourteenth Amendment was ever legally ratified, due to the coercion of state legislatures by federal troops and by other unconstitutional acts of Congress long after the war was over. All such doubts can be removed by adopting a new Amendment reaffirming the essential parts of the old provisions and clarifying them at the same time. Here is the text of a substitute, offered by this writer as a possible basis for the drafting of a "New Fourteentn Amendment." It contains approximately as many words as the original and reads as follows:

"In pursuance of the Tenth Amendment, which provides that 'The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the states, are reserved to the states respectively, or to the people,' it is hereby declared that the people of any state may provide in its Constitution for a referendum vote, at a special election to be called solely for that purpose, and may by such referendum amend the state Constitution to establish within any such state complete and exclusive control by the state over its educational institutions, programs and curricula, including the right to assign pupils to any school supported by public revenues on whatever basis the state legislature may determine.

"The state legislatures may by law delegate such exclusive authority in whole or in part to local subdivisions.

"Nothing in the existing provisions of the Constitution shall be held by any court to impair the purpose of this Amendment or of the Tenth Amendment.

"Congress shall pass no law abridging the rights of the states or denying to any state, or to the people of any federal territory not yet admitted to statehood, the equal protection of the federal laws. Nor shall Congress or the executive, by the provisions of any law governing appropriations, or by any other law or action, deny to any state, or to the people of any federal territory, the right to the exclusive control of its educational institutions, programs and curricula.

"The statutes hitherto enacted by Congress granting to certain states the exclusive control of their educational institutions, programs and curricula, and any such provisions of the state Constitutions hitherto approved by Congress upon admission of such states to statehood which provide for the exclusive control of education by the states, are hereby affirmed as of continuing validity.

"Nothing in this Amendment shall deny to the citizens of any state, or federal territory not admitted to statehood, the right to establish private schools, including religious schools; nor shall any state or federal authority prohibit anyone from attending such a private school by requiring attendance at a public school.

"Subject to the foregoing reservations, Sections 1 and 5 of the Fourteenth Amendment are hereby declared in full force and effect, with Section 1 amended to read as follows:

"'All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the state wherein they reside. No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law, nor deny to any person, or corporation, or partnership, or any profit-making or non-profit-making organization, within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.'"

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

Agriculture experts in Washington are privately despairing of any hope that President Eisenhower's recommendations for new farm legislation to replace the price support plan can get through Congress.

Some are freely predicting a deadlock situation which will put over any meaningful legislation to reduce the financial burden on the federal treasury until next year.

Mr. Eisenhower and his Agriculture Secretary, Ezra Taft Benson, are seeking some kind of formula that will force the nation's farmers into a production pattern to bring their output more into line with consumer needs. These men believe this can be accomplished only by reducing the financial rewards for overproduction that have existed since World War II.

Many farm state legislators who were brave enough to espouse this cause were defeated in the last congressional elections. It is doubtful that significant numbers of those remaining will be willing to risk their political necks in this cause.

Featherbedding

By Leslie Gould

NEW YORK — The railroads are out — so they say — to make an issue of "featherbedding."

This is pay for made work or no work.

If the managements stick to this resolve there will be a railroad strike this summer.

This is also the time for the showdown in the steel industry, with every indication of a bitter, long-drawn-out strike. The issue in the developing steel strike is wage increases that are outstripping productivity.

The success or failure of the railroads to reduce or get rid of "featherbedding" will be closely watched by several other industries similarly afflicted.

These include the construction, entertainment, printing, trucking and airline industries. The entertainment industry covers movies, the theatre, television and radio.

The railroad industry claims "featherbedding" costs a half billion dollars a year -- nearly 10 per cent of the total payrolls. It accounts for a large share of the annual passenger deficit, which runs around $750 million. It is contributing to the crisis in commuter service.

The net income of the railroads from all services last year is estimated at $602 million, against $740 million in 1957.

Any reduction in "featherbedding" would be reflected in net income and would provide money for needed improvements if the railroads are to stay in business.

The railroad industry is operating under work rules that are 40 years old, when steam was the motive power.

These rules have stayed in the contracts and have been expanded over the years because railroad managements never put up a real fight. There wasn't the competition of the over-the-highway trucks and the airplane. The only comfort for the railroads is that their two big competitors are now beset with the same problem.

The "featherbedding" on the railroads is concentrated in train operations, or a fourth of the industry's workers. It is in the dual mileage-day basis of paying train crews, in rules that bar train crews from working in yards and yard workers from manning trains, and in use of firemen on diesels.

A day's pay is determined by either eight or less hours work or 100 miles or less traveled—whichever comes first. Thus on the 4½ hours trip between New York and Washington, an engineer gets two days' pay for one day's work. A round trip amounts to four days' pay.

The average pay for a N. Y.-Washington trip is $49.40 and if the engineer does a round trip, it brings the day's pay to $98.80. The fireman gets $43.53 on the average for the one way trip, the conductor $29.78 and the trainman $27.73. Generally the operating crews make a round trip between New York and Washington.

Under the "featherbedding" rules, on the 960-mile Chicago-New York passenger run which takes 15 to 18 hours, there is a change of engineers and firemen six times, making a total of seven engineers and seven firemen for the one-way trip. The conductors have a longer mileage basis, so that there are only two sets of conductors, who usually get overtime. The same for the brakemen, who get off at the halfway mark.

Most engineers return to their original starting point on the same day, giving them two days pay for one day's work.

On the 1,034 mile Chicago-Denver run of 16½ hours eight different engine crews are used.

In an arbitrated case, one railroad recently was ordered to give a full day's pay to a yard employe who did a few minutes work outside the yard limits. A road employe got a day's pay for the same work which he did not do but claimed he should have.

In another case a road freight engineer was awarded an extra day's pay for moving his train a few car lengths in a yard.

The railroad workers have a point on their side, the number of employes has dropped from an average of 1,664,000 in the 1926-30 period to around 850,000. The total railroad payroll has gone up from an average $2.8 billion in the 1926-30 period to around $5.3 billion. The payroll has about doubled, while the number of employes has been reduced about 51 per cent.

Different Types Of Muscular Ailments

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

When a person sits or sleeps in a draft and awakens the next morning with a stiff, painful neck, it is generally understood that the muscles are inflamed. Some physicians disagree. To them, inflammation means bacterial invasion, and when a piece of the invovled muscle is examined under the microscope, bacteria cannot be found.

Whatever the cause, it still hurts and the best explanation is the vague unscientific excuse, "some biochemical change, as yet undemonstrable." On the other hand, there are several diseases in which the muscles are affected in this way.

A genuine muscle infection may follow injury, especially when the wound is contaminated with streptococci or staphylococci. Chills, fever, localized pain, and tenderness develop when pus accumulates in and around the muscular tissue. The antibiotics and surgical drainage bring the condition under control quickly.

The most dreaded bacterial infection of the muscle is caused by the micro-organisms that produce gas gangrene. They thrive deep in the tissues where there is no oxygen and generate not only a gas but also a deadly toxin. In addition, the tissues become gangrenous.

This disease is most likely to occur when deep wounds are contaminated by soil and debris containing the gas bacillus. The soldier is most susceptible. A preventive is available; the antibiotics, larger doses of antitoxin, and extensive surgery are needed after the disease gains a foothold.

Inflammation of the muscles by parasitic infestation is well known. The most common is the Trichinella spiralis of uncooked or rare pork fame.

Myositis ossificans is the most unusual disease of the group. The infected muscle fibers are turned into cartilage and bone. In the progressive type, the entire muscle group becomes functionless and the individual turns into "a stone man." No treatment is helpful and the cause escapes detection.

Dermatomyositis is another rare bird in which skin and muscles are inflamed simultaneously. A red rash appears, along with fever, weakness, and swelling of the muscles. The new adrenal hormones are the best remedies.

APOPLEXY AND EPILEPSY

C. B. writes: What is the difference between an attack of apoplexy and of epilepsy?

REPLY

Apoplexy, or stroke, is caused by a plugged vessel or hemorrhage into the brain. Epilepsy manifests itself in the form of seizures in which the individual has a fleeting loss of consciousness with or without a convulsion. The only abnormality present in the majority of epileptics is abnormal brain waves.

CONVULSIONS

Mrs. O. writes: Can high fever lead to convulsions in a child?

REPLY

Yes. A high temperature is the most common cause of convulsions in infants and children. The convulsion is comparable to the chill in adults as the opening gun of an infection. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on convulsions.

NODULAR GOITER

M. P. writes: What is a multinodular nontoxic goiter?

REPLY

Multinodular means a goiter that is chockful of cysts containing colloid material. Nontoxic refers to a thyroid gland that is not overactive and is not affecting the body adversely by raising metabolism.

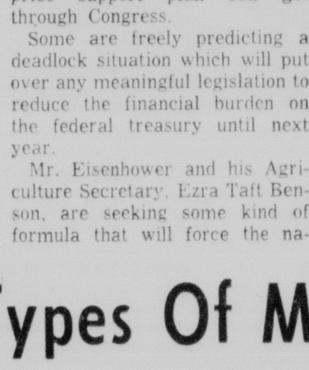

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Ben Sonnenberg, famed publicist, admits, "No client should even think of me unless he can afford to pay $5,000 a month!" He has an understandable fondness for millionaires. "Before I met the late Albert Lasker," he recalls, I was always seen with beautiful blondes. After I met Albert Lasker, I was always seen with Albert Lasker."

Sonnenberg handles the press with magnificent ease. When a reporter calls to inquire about some scheme Ben has dressed up for a client, Sonnenberg often feigns surprise, and murmurs, 'You amaze me! I though' you were calling to say you had quit your job so I can take you on at triple your old salary!"

The country's most unusual oil tycoon has been uncovered by comic Myron Cohen. He sports a 10-gallon hat and hand-painted ties, gives $100 bills for tips, brags incessantly — and lives in Rhode Island.

The Decline Of Ambassadors

Embassies — the sovereign domain of one country within the geographical confines of another—are receiving critical scrutiny by several governments to evaluate the service rendered for the money expended.

With modern transportation and communications bringing every capital within commuting distance of any other, several countries with an extensive and expensive network of foreign emissaries and staffs are wondering if tradition in this case isn't becoming too costly.

Ambassadors and other government representatives stationed in foreign lands traditionally have lived high on the social hog. It was considered essential that good diplomatic relations be cemented with proper social accoutrements befitting the only available representative of a distant land.

Recently, however, there has been a trend toward more direct negotiations between capitals. Cabinet ministers and other high echelon government officials personally conduct affairs of state with foreign governments, to the exclusion of the diplomatic corps. But million-dollar-a-year embassies continue to grow.

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles brought the matter into the open recently with criticism of the high cost of maintaining the U. S. embassy in Paris. This caused other governments to peer into their pocketbooks to see how much it was costing for diplomatic relations with their neighbors.

Diplomats, and embassies, have not become obsolete, but they have declined in importance. It is logical that the cost of maintaining them be kept in proper perspective.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Labor Speaks Up

In retrospect one must grant that the labor leaders who met with Anastas Mikoyan exhibited more intelligence and primal courage than the businessmen and bankers who met him.

At the labor luncheon for Mikoyan, James B. Carey of the I.U.E. started the discussion by calling attention to the fact that they met on the eighteenth anniversary of the announcement of the Four Freedoms by Franklin D. Roosevelt; and that the first of these freedoms was freedom of speech. Mikoyan said that the Russians have a high regard for Roosevelt and agreed with the principles of the Four Freedoms.

Whereupon Walter Reuther got into the conversation by stating that the only war that the American labor movement was interested in was a war against poverty, disease, hunger and illiteracy. Mikoyan agreed to that too. Mikoyan went on to say that war of any kind was an immoral method of settling disputes. (Read Marx's "Communist Manifesto" and Stalin's "Foundations of Leninism" to the contrary.)

Reuther then made the point that it is easy for Soviet Russia and the United States to agree "on pious phrases"—but in the practical implementation of these principles we have failed. He pointed to Germany as an example, advocating a unified Germany by free elections of the people of Germany.

Mikoyan ignored Reuther's proposal but gave the history and background of East German leaders and suggested that the American labor leaders would know more if they visited Russia. Carey then traced the C.I.O.'s attempt to work with the Soviet trade union movement immediately after World War II in the W.F.T.U. (World Federation of Trade Unions—a Communist front). He said that Soviet Russia made a mistake by capturing and controlling the W.F.T.U. because they thus forced the C.I.O. and the British Trade Union Congress to get out. Mikoyan acknowledged that the Russians make mistakes, but that good neighbors who have made mistakes could not let past mistakes dominate their future.

Reuther then described the working conditions of a General Motors worker whom he represented as an example of the gains that the American labor movement has made. He said that in view of the favorable condition of the American worker, the Russian propaganda line that the American worker is a wage slave makes no sense. Reuther indicated that the propaganda line of the Russians had not changed for the past 50 years. (40 would have been correct.)

Carey thereupon elaborated on the evolutionary improvement that the labor movement had experienced since Mikoyan's former visit to the United States. Mikoyan claimed that Russia recognized the wealth and higher standard of living of the American worker and that they used this as an incentive in speaking to the Russian workers.

Joseph A. Beirne, president of the Communications Workers of America, said that the average American worker in general supported the foreign policy of his government. It was Beirne who brought up the question of Hungary. He said Hungary was a situation where the workers were attempting to achieve self-determination and they were brutally slain or imprisoned. Beirne also wanted to know if American labor delegations, when they visited Russia, could visit prisons and labor camps and talk to the workers in their homes without interference.

Mikoyan guaranteed complete freedom for an American trade union delegation. He said that no American visa had been refused in 1958. Mikoyan rejected discussion of Hungary because it would take too long. He then chided the American labor leaders for blindly following the foreign policy of the American government.

With that Carey, Reuther and Beirne jumped on Mikoyan to the effect that they were free to criticize the policy of the American government. Mikoyan then got foxy. He said that he had not realized that labor exercised such an influence on government, calling attention to the fact that there was not even a Labor Party in the United States. Carey jokingly said that Russia did not have a Capitalist Party.

Carey then told Mikoyan how Soviet Russia messes up the economy of the world as it did in Finland, as it did by cancellation of the rice contracts in Iran and upsetting the economies of Bolivia and Malaya by dumping tin on the world market.

Mikoyan could only answer the various criticisms of Russian policy by saying that the labor leaders did not know the facts of Russia and they should come and see.

Ike Appoints Conflict-Of-Interest Official To Commerce Department

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Senators are scratching their heads as to how Ike happened to appoint two conflict-of-interest officials to the two highest posts in the Commerce Department—Secretary of Commerce and Under Secretary. Senators figure that the White House staff just wasn't on its toes.

In addition to Adm. Lewis Strauss, who helped conceal the notorious Dixon-Yates private utility conflict of interest, the new Under Secretary of Commerce, John J. Allen, is at cross-purposes with the public interest.

Congressman Allen, of Oakland, Calif., was defeated last year, and shortly thereafter was rewarded with a sub-cabinet post. It happens that he was the attorney who helped the Chinese gambling czar of North California, Chin Bok Hing, establish a tax-evasion trust fund and was thus cited in a Federal Court record which could easily have been read by the White House.

In addition the new Under Secretary of Commerce, when in Congress, introduced two private bills and one resolution for the benefit of Jess M. Ritchie who won headlines in the famous AD-X2 battery additive case.

When the Bureau of Standards ruled that AD-X2 when added to a storage battery did not improve or prolong its life, Sinclair Weeks, then Secretary of Commerce, fired Dr. Allen V. Astin as Director of the Bureau of Standards. The howl from the scientific world was so loud that Weeks reversed himself, ate crow and reinstated Dr. Astin.

By this time Jess Ritchie and AD-X2 had become a national issue. To settle the controversy, Secretary Weeks asked the National Academy of Sciences to decide the merits of the battery additive once and for all. It found that Dr. Astin and the Bureau were right. AD-X2 had no value.

Allen Gets Rewarded

Despite this, Congressman Allen introduced House Bill 3875 in the 84th Congress and again in the 85th to reimburse Jess Ritchie an indefinite amount at the expense of the taxpayers. Ritchie was claiming $2,369,064.32 alleged damages from Uncle Sam.

Both these private bills were blocked, thanks in part to the strong stand of Secretary Weeks who by this time had confessed his original boner and was fighting on the side of the taxpayer.

"This department recommended against the enactment of this bill," he wrote Congressman Emanuel Celler on April 10, 1957.

Subsequently, Congressman Allen introduced another resolution which managed to slip through the entire Judiciary Committee despite the formal objection of Congressman George P. Miller, who represents the neighboring district at Alameda, Calif. This resolution sent the AD-X2 claim to the U. S. Court of Claims for recommendation.

Finally, last November, Congressman Allen's constituents got wise and defeated him. Shortly thereafter, Eisenhower rewarded him by appointment to a post in his sub-cabinet—Under Secretary of Commerce.

In that post, Allen will now be in the conflicting position of having introduced legislation for the relief of Jess Ritchie which his own Commerce Department emphatically and vigorously says is not justified.

Jess M. Ritchie shall be compensated, says Allen in his bill, "for losses sustained as a result of the direct attack upon the worth of the product, battery AD-X2, by the Department of Commerce."

It will be interesting to see what the new Under Secretary of Commerce, Mr. Allen, and the new Secretary of Commerce, Admiral Strauss, do. It will also be interesting to see what Sen. Warren Magnuson of Washington does about their confirmation.

Fast-Talking Admiral

Adm. Arthur Radford is such a fast talker that he was once referred to on Capitol Hill as a "Fancy Dan Admiral." He is such a salesman that during a one-hour refueling stay in Iwo Jima he once talked Eisenhower into reversing the entire Far Eastern policy of the United States and as a result became Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

In Teheran recently, Admiral Radford used his fast-talking ability so effectively that he talked the Soviets out of an alliance with Iran.

What happened was that the Shah of Iran was disgruntled over American aloofness at the Baghdad Pact meeting in Karachi last month. So he sent a secret note to Moscow offering to sign a nonaggression pact which would prohibit the United States from using Iran's military bases.

We have spent millions developing these bases. They are part of the ring around Russia. So when the Kremlin got this secret note it sent Deputy Foreign Minister Semyenov to Teheran on the next plane.

It happened that Admiral Radford got there ahead of him on a special mission to study foreign aid. He was not supposed to handle diplomacy.

However, both the Russian diplomat and the American Admiral turned on the diplomatic pressure and a battle raged for two weeks in the back rooms of the Iranian Foreign Ministry. Finally Radford persuaded the Shah to stick with the United States in return for stronger American defense guarantees.

This was the backstage reason why Moscow came out with a blast last week accusing Iran of being "two-faced." Iran had invited the Soviet to send an envoy and then had rebuffed him. What Moscow didn't figure on was the fast-talking admiral who, though retired from the Navy, can still talk faster than a destroyer can shoot.

Nixon's Congressman

Democrat George Kasem, who now represents Vice President Nixon's district in California, carried it by 604 ballots last November. The returns were so nip and tuck on election night that his wife, Catherine, was awake all night watching the television and keeping in touch with her husband's headquarters by telephone.

However, their eight-year-old daughter, Janet, took it in her stride. When Kasem finally came home, weary but happy, he asked Janet if she had heard the news.

"Yes, you won, daddy," she replied. "Will you please fix me a sandwich?"

Proposal For A New Fourteenth Amendment

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—A new Amendment to the Federal Constitution is needed not only to clear up the conflicting decisions of the courts interpreting the Fourteenth Amendment on the subject of school integration but to establish firmly the basic rights of organizations of all kinds, including those of a fraternal, religious, educational and business nature.

For today, under the changeful rulings of varying personnel in the Supreme Court of the United States, a group of citizens, for instance, who form a partnership or a corporation cannot be sure of the "equal protection of the laws" of the states.

Under the dissenting opinions handed down repeatedly by a minority of the Justices, the Fourteenth Amendment has been held to apply to individuals only and not to groups of individuals.

Likewise, continuance of parochial schools is not fully assured from a legal standpoint. While a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in 1925 held invalid an Oregon law that required the attendance of all children in public schools, this ruling could be wiped out overnight by five Justices of the high court on the ground that public psychology is different from what it was when the first ruling was made and that public-school education is "inherently" better than private schooling.

Plainly, also, the voteless people of the District of Columbia do not enjoy the "equal protection" clause applicable to residents of the 49 states of the Union. Through a curious stretch of power by the Supreme Court in 1954, the school authorities of the city of Washington were ordered to obey the so-called implications of the Fourteenth Amendment, though nothing in the Constitution or in previous rulings had ever defined the Constitution that way for the people of a federal territory.

Also, sections 2, 3 and 4 of the Fourteenth Amendment have become obsolete because these referred only to persons once engaged in the War Between the States, all of whom now are dead. So these sections can be eliminated.

There are, moreover, serious doubts whether the Fourteenth Amendment was ever legally ratified, due to the coercion of state legislatures by federal troops and by other unconstitutional acts of Congress long after the war was over. All such doubts can be removed by adopting a new Amendment reaffirming the essential parts of the old provisions and clarifying them at the same time. Here is the text of a substitute, offered by this writer as a possible basis for the drafting of a "New Fourteentn Amendment." It contains approximately as many words as the original and reads as follows:

"In pursuance of the Tenth Amendment, which provides that 'The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the states, are reserved to the states respectively, or to the people,' it is hereby declared that the people of any state may provide in its Constitution for a referendum vote, at a special election to be called solely for that purpose, and may by such referendum amend the state Constitution to establish within any such state complete and exclusive control by the state over its educational institutions, programs and curricula, including the right to assign pupils to any school supported by public revenues on whatever basis the state legislature may determine.

"The state legislatures may by law delegate such exclusive authority in whole or in part to local subdivisions.

"Nothing in the existing provisions of the Constitution shall be held by any court to impair the purpose of this Amendment or of the Tenth Amendment.

"Congress shall pass no law abridging the rights of the states or denying to any state, or to the people of any federal territory not yet admitted to statehood, the equal protection of the federal laws. Nor shall Congress or the executive, by the provisions of any law governing appropriations, or by any other law or action, deny to any state, or to the people of any federal territory, the right to the exclusive control of its educational institutions, programs and curricula.

"The statutes hitherto enacted by Congress granting to certain states the exclusive control of their educational institutions, programs and curricula, and any such provisions of the state Constitutions hitherto approved by Congress upon admission of such states to statehood which provide for the exclusive control of education by the states, are hereby affirmed as of continuing validity.

"Nothing in this Amendment shall deny to the citizens of any state, or federal territory not admitted to statehood, the right to establish private schools, including religious schools; nor shall any state or federal authority prohibit anyone from attending such a private school by requiring attendance at a public school.

"Subject to the foregoing reservations, Sections 1 and 5 of the Fourteenth Amendment are hereby declared in full force and effect, with Section 1 amended to read as follows:

" 'All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the state wherein they reside. No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law, nor deny to any person, or corporation, or partnership, or any profit-making or non-profit-making organization, within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.' "

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

Agriculture experts in Washington are privately despairing of any hope that President Eisenhower's recommendations for new farm legislation to replace the price support plan can get through Congress.

Some are freely predicting a deadlock situation which will put over any meaningful legislation to reduce the financial burden on the federal treasury until next year.

Mr. Eisenhower and his Agriculture Secretary, Ezra Taft Benson, are seeking some kind of formula that will force the nation's farmers into a production pattern to bring their output more into line with consumer needs. These men believe this can be accomplished only by reducing the financial rewards for overproduction that have existed since World War II.

Many farm state legislators who were brave enough to espouse this cause were defeated in the last congressional elections. It is doubtful that significant numbers of those remaining will be willing to risk their political necks in this cause.

Featherbedding

By Leslie Gould

NEW YORK — The railroads are out — so they say — to make an issue of "featherbedding."

This is pay for made work or no work.

If the managements stick to this resolve there will be a railroad strike this summer.

This is also the time for the showdown in the steel industry, with every indication of a bitter, long-drawn-out strike. The issue in the developing steel strike is wage increases that are outstripping productivity.

The success or failure of the railroads to reduce or get rid of "featherbedding" will be closely watched by several other industries similarly afflicted.

These include the construction, entertainment, printing, trucking and airline industries. The entertainment industry covers movies, the theatre, television and radio.

The railroad industry claims "featherbedding" costs a half billion dollars a year -- nearly 10 per cent of the total payrolls. It accounts for a large share of the annual passenger deficit, which runs around $750 million. It is contributing to the crisis in commuter service.

The net income of the railroads from all services last year is estimated at $602 million, against $740 million in 1957.

Any reduction in "featherbedding" would be reflected in net income and would provide money for needed improvements if the railroads are to stay in business.

The railroad industry is operating under work rules that are 40 years old, when steam was the motive power.

These rules have stayed in the contracts and have been expanded over the years because railroad managements never put up a real fight. There wasn't the competition of the over-the-highway trucks and the airplane. The only comfort for the railroads is that their two big competitors are now beset with the same problem.

The "featherbedding" on the railroads is concentrated in train operations, or a fourth of the industry's workers. It is in the dual mileage-day basis of paying train crews, in rules that bar train crews from working in yards and yard workers from manning trains, and in use of firemen on diesels.

A day's pay is determined by either eight or less hours work or 100 miles or less traveled—whichever comes first. Thus on the 4½ hours trip between New York and Washington, an engineer gets two days' pay for one day's work. A round trip amounts to four days' pay.

The average pay for a N. Y.-Washington trip is $49.40 and if the engineer does a round trip, it brings the day's pay to $98.80. The fireman gets $43.53 on the average for the one way trip, the conductor $29.78 and the trainman $27.73. Generally the operating crews make a round trip between New York and Washington.

Under the "featherbedding" rules, on the 960-mile Chicago-New York passenger run which takes 15 to 18 hours, there is a change of engineers and firemen six times, making a total of seven engineers and seven firemen for the one-way trip. The conductors have a longer mileage basis, so that there are only two sets of conductors, who usually get overtime. The same for the brakemen, who get off at the halfway mark.

Most engineers return to their original starting point on the same day, giving them two days pay for one day's work.

On the 1,034 mile Chicago-Denver run of 16½ hours eight different engine crews are used.

In an arbitrated case, one railroad recently was ordered to give a full day's pay to a yard employe who did a few minutes work outside the yard limits. A road employe got a day's pay for the same work which he did not do but claimed he should have.

In another case a road freight engineer was awarded an extra day's pay for moving his train a few car lengths in a yard.

The railroad workers have a point on their side, the number of employes has dropped from an average of 1,664,000 in the 1926-30 period to around 850,000. The total railroad payroll has gone up from an average $2.8 billion in the 1926-30 period to around $5.3 billion. The payroll has about doubled, while the number of employes has been reduced about 51 per cent.

Different Types Of Muscular Ailments

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

When a person sits or sleeps in a draft and awakens the next morning with a stiff, painful neck, it is generally understood that the muscles are inflamed. Some physicians disagree. To them, inflammation means bacterial invasion, and when a piece of the invovled muscle is examined under the microscope, bacteria cannot be found.

Whatever the cause, it still hurts and the best explanation is the vague unscientific excuse, "some biochemical change, as yet undemonstrable." On the other hand, there are several diseases in which the muscles are affected in this way.

A genuine muscle infection may follow injury, especially when the wound is contaminated with streptococci or staphylococci. Chills, fever, localized pain, and tenderness develop when pus accumulates in and around the muscular tissue. The antibiotics and surgical drainage bring the condition under control quickly.

The most dreaded bacterial infection of the muscle is caused by the micro-organisms that produce gas gangrene. They thrive deep in the tissues where there is no oxygen and generate not only a gas but also a deadly toxin. In addition, the tissues become gangrenous.

This disease is most likely to occur when deep wounds are contaminated by soil and debris containing the gas bacillus. The soldier is most susceptible. A preventive is available; the antibiotics, larger doses of antitoxin, and extensive surgery are needed after the disease gains a foothold.

Inflammation of the muscles by parasitic infestation is well known. The most common is the Trichinella spiralis of uncooked or rare pork fame.

Myositis ossificans is the most unusual disease of the group. The infected muscle fibers are turned into cartilage and bone. In the progressive type, the entire muscle group becomes functionless and the individual turns into "a stone man." No treatment is helpful and the cause escapes detection.

Dermatomyositis is another rare bird in which skin and muscles are inflamed simultaneously. A red rash appears, along with fever, weakness, and swelling of the muscles. The new adrenal hormones are the best remedies.

APOPLEXY AND EPILEPSY

C. B. writes: What is the difference between an attack of apoplexy and of epilepsy?

REPLY

Apoplexy, or stroke, is caused by a plugged vessel or hemorrhage into the brain. Epilepsy manifests itself in the form of seizures in which the individual has a fleeting loss of consciousness with or without a convulsion. The only abnormality present in the majority of epileptics is abnormal brain waves.

CONVULSIONS

Mrs. O. writes: Can high fever lead to convulsions in a child?

REPLY

Yes. A high temperature is the most common cause of convulsions in infants and children. The convulsion is comparable to the chill in adults as the opening gun of an infection. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on convulsions.

NODULAR GOITER

M. P. writes: What is a multinodular nontoxic goiter?

REPLY

Multinodular means a goiter that is chockful of cysts containing colloid material. Nontoxic refers to a thyroid gland that is not overactive and is not affecting the body adversely by raising metabolism.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Keyser Captures PVC Crown, Whips Piedmont, 71-57

Tornadomen Grab Sixth League Title

Ronnie Smith Tops Scorers With 28 Points For Winners

PIEDMONT, W. Va.—Breaking a second period tie on Bill Keller's basket, Keyser High's Golden Tornado steadily increased its margin to defeat Piedmont High's Lions, 71-57, here last night and capture the Potomac Valley Conference crown.

The triumph was the 13th in 14 games for Coach John Shelton's crew and gave the Tornado an unbreakable hold on the loop diadem. Franklin with 10-1 mark cannot tie for the title because the Panthers play but one more conference game. Romney High's Pioneers ended the PVC season with a 10-2 mark.

Piedmont, dropping both games of the series to Keyser, gave the Tornado quintet a battle in the first half, the score being tied several times before Keyser pulled away to a 31-26 halftime lead.

With the count deadlocked at 25-all, Keller scored a basket which put Keyser ahead to stay and the winners steadily increased their margin throughout the remainder of the contest.

In scoring their sixth league title in the history of the PVC, Keyser pushed the margin to 53-40 in the third period and coasted home.

Ronnie Smith, high-scoring center for the winners, paced the scorers with 28 points while Dick Russell bagged 17 in a losing cause for Piedmont which lost its sixth game of the season.

In the preliminary game Keyser's Jayvees defeated the Piedmont Junior Varsity, 32-16. The lineups:

The Stags have dropped 16 decisions, while the setback initialed Circleville's mark at 3-15.

Chaney's Lose To Loop-Leaders 108-69

The Old Germans continued on their merry ways in the City Basketball League last night by racking up their 15th consecutive win without a loss, fifth for the second half, by thumping Chaney's Transportation, 108-69, on the Carver High court.

Chaney's kept pace for the first two quarters and held the lead at 26-23 and 30-29 in the second stanza before Eddie Orndorff's goal sent the Gees on top for good at 31-30 with 4:30 remaining in the first half.

Big Don Moran paced the Gees with 34 points, 16 of which came in the first quarter. Moran didn't play in the third period. Following the leader were Glenn Smith with 21 points, Bob Bateson with 16, and Evers "Buck" Smith with 13. Ellsworth Lambert and Colin Detrick had 29 and 17 markers for the losers.

The Germans now have a pace-setting 5-0 second-half mark and lead runnerup Moose (5-1) by one-half game.

Knights of Columbus copped its third decision of the half by nosing out Forty Eight in a game that had the score tied 10 times, 82-75, as Regis Fair dumped in 27 points on 13 field goals and one for four fouls.

Now tide for third place with Old Exports on a 3-3 mark, the Knights were also paced by Marty Mullaney's 20 tallies. Bill Day and Ed Parsons spearheaded Forty and Eight's losing attack with 22 and 18, respectively. Dave Ritter tossed in 17 and John Poling 14.

The vanquished once had a 69-68 lead in the final stanza, but Bobby Christ meshed a goal and a foul toss to put the Caseys ahead for good at 71-69.

A pair of games are on tap for Fort Hill's floor tonight as the Knights and Exports battle it out at 7 p. m. for third place. Forty and Eight and Chaney's will clash in an 8:30 contest. Box scores:

CCC Men Golfers Eiect Max Bastian President

Membership Of 137 New High; Special Trophies Go To Four

Max W. Bastian was elected president of the Men's Golf Association at the sixth annual dinner meeting held last night at the Cumberland Country Club.

Mr. Bastian succeeds Benjamin A. LaNeve, who headed the organization for the past two years.

John Tucker Mason was elected vice president, George Bottorf, treasurer and George Garlitz, secretary, for the ensuing year.

Sixty members and invited guests attended the dinner at which Mr. LaNeve and Carroll Boggs, manager and golf professional at the Cumberland Country Club, presented trophies to winners and runners-up in tournaments held throughout the past year.

137 Members New High

President LaNeve reported the golf association's present membership of 137 is an all-time high and he praised the tournament and handicap committees and Boggs for the part they have played in the success of the program. There were 32 weekend tournaments held during the 1958 season by Boggs and Richard Buskey, assistant pro, in conjunction with the pro shop. The association handled 13 successful tournaments averaging 74 participants, and 28 played in the junior tournament.

William A. Douglas, president of the Cumberland Country Club, praised Boggs as a topnotch club manager and stated that the men's and women's golf associations were "wonderful assets of the club." Among improvements he proposed for the club was a steam room for members.

Proposes New Scorecard

John Tucker Mason proposed that a new scorecard be adopted so as to conform with the changes made on the course in recent years. It was decided that committees of the men's and women's association meet with Boggs to decide on the make-up of the new scorecard.

A special prize known as the "Air Conditioning Award" was presented to Glenn Wright. Boggs explained that the air conditioning system failed at the club and engineers who made repairs found a golf ball lodged in the machinery. Members stated that Wright had lost a golf ball and was planning to play it off the roof if he found it there. It was believed to be the same ball that fouled up the air conditioning. Wright received the ball in addition to the special award.

Lester Deneen, introduced as the rules putting champion, who had a telephone installed on the putting green, also received a trophy, as did James W. Beacham, who was appointed the club "Seniors" champion of 1958.

Plan Seniors Event

Mr. Beacham was named chairman of the Seniors Tournament Committee for 1959 and Boggs stated that he will donate to the winner an award, to be known as the Paul DeMarcay Seniors Trophy, named in honor of the former CCC manager and now a resident of Sarasota, Fla.

Carl Goetz, the Cumberland Country Club's "non-playing golfer," also was honored with a special award.

President LaNeve, in behalf of the association, presented a gift to Carroll Boggs in appreciation of the latter's services as manager and pro at the club.

Morton "Sonny" Perkin, Jr., presented the Morton Peskin Sr. Memorial Trophy to LaNeve, who won the first annual event last year.

Dr. Paul Castelle received the trophy earned by the late Dr. Albert Eskin in the fifth flight of the spring tournament. At the start of the program, those present stood in silence for one minute in memory of Dr. Eskin, one of the club's popular golfers, who died during the past year.

It was announced that 181 members participated in the spring and fall tournaments, and the following winners and runners-up received trophies:

Spring Tournament:

Championship Flight: George Petras, Benjamin LaNeve.

First: John Rokisky, John Wilson.

Fourth: Ed George, Charles Zembower.

Fifth: Dr. Milton S. Granet, Dr. A. C. Eskin.

Fall Tournament:

Championship Flight: Charles S. Catherman, Jr., Col. Robert W. Meals.

First: George Petras, William Claus.

Oldtown Wins First Contest

Beats Flintstone, Evens Series 46-44

OLDTOWN — Larry Crabtree's goal just as the final buzzer sounded gave Coach Ronnie Kellough's Oldtown High School cagers their first victory of the season here last night, beating Flintstone's Aggies, 46-44.

The triumph snapped a year-long drought, ending Oldtown's losing streak at 16 straight and forcing a playoff for Allegany County Class C honors with Flintstone.

The Aggies won the opener on January 13, 65-49, and a victory last night would have given Coach Stony Jackson's crew the right to play in the District No. 1 Class C playoffs at Hagerstown on March 6-7. But Oldtown's victory now necessitates a playoff at a later date on a neutral court with the winner qualifying to join Hancock of Washington County and Walkersville of Frederick County in the district battle.

Youngblood paced the victors with 16 points while Flintstone, now 3-7, had Clingerman as the top scorer with 19 tallies. The lineups:

Hyde Agrees To Terms With Senators Nine

Relief Ace Gets Boost In Salary

United Press International

Dick Hyde, the little submarine-style relief ace who pitched so well for the Washington Senators last season that he may wind up hurling for the New York Yankees next season, signed Wednesday for an estimated $14,000.

That salary represented a boost of about $6,000 for the 155-pound right-hander who compiled a 10-3 record and a 1.75 earned run average in 53 games last season. The Yankees have been angling for him ever since the end of the season and it is possible he may yet wind up with them before the 1959 campaign is underway.

11 Still Unsigned

Hyde's agreement left 11 Senators unsigned including such key men as Roy Sievers, the team's "big stick," and Albie Pearson, the little centerfielder who beat out the Yankees' Ryne Duren for American League Rookie of the Year honors. Among the other nine is pitcher Truman Clevenger, who failed to agree to terms Wednesday after a conference with club president Cal Griffith.

The Yankees, meanwhile, announced that Don Larsen, the perfect-game pitcher of the 1956 World Series, agreed to terms. The Yankees, of course, did not reveal the terms but they are estimated at $17,000 — the same amount he received last season. First-baseman Marv Throneberry and Frank Leja also agreed to terms, leaving 10 Yankees unsigned.

Larsen had a 9-6 record and a 3.08 earned run average last season after a brilliant start which suggested he might at last be developing into a big winner over the course of an entire season.

The Pittsburgh Pirates announced the signing of outfielder Bob Skinner and catcher Smoky Burgess. Skinner hit .321 with 13 home runs and 70 rbi last year. Burgess was recently acquired from Cincinnati.

Pafko Inks Pact

Wednesday's signings left only three Pirates not under contract for the new season. They are pitcher Bob Porterfield, first baseman Rocky Nelson and outfielder Joe Christopher.

Veteran Andy Pafko and rookie infielder Mel Roach became the 26th and 27th Milwaukee Braves to return signed contracts. Roach, 26, is one of the most mentioned prospects to succeed second baseman Red Schoendienst, who is on the shelf with tuberculosis. Pafko, 38, signed up for his 17th major league season.

North High Can Wrap Up CVAL Cage Title Tonight

Hubs Aim For 19th Straight Triumph Over Martinsburg

Coach Mel Henry's North High School floormen can wrap up the championship for the 1958-59 campaign tonight if they whip the Martinsburg High School Bulldogs at Hagerstown.

Undefeated in 18 games and victorious in eight straight league engagements the Hubs figure to win over a Martinsburg quint it whipped earlier in the season on the Bulldogs court by the score of 50-39.

Fort Hill Runner-Up

The Hubs' closest competitor in the six school league is Fort Hill High School which trails the leaders with five wins and two losses.

North High has whipped Fort Hill, South Hagerstown and Frederick twice and Martinsburg and Allegany once. The Henrymen windup their league campaign with Allegany at Hagerstown on Wednesday, February 25.

Frederick High School won the league title in 1957 when the cage circuit was revived and Fort Hill bagged the championship last season.

Bayard High School's Tigers will be shooting for their 14th victory of the season tonight when they host Beverly High School. The Grant Countians have copped six of their last seven starts and figure to sweep the series with Beverly which dropped the opener by the score of 64-54.

Cooper Picked To Win Jamaica

Toski, Furgol Are Chief Contenders

KINGSTON, Jamaica (UPI)—Pete Cooper, the 43-year-old pro from Lakeland, Fla., was favored Wednesday to make it three triumphs out of four tries on the Caribbean golf circuit's fourth and final tournament, the Jamaica Open starting at the Daymanas Golf and Country Club course Thursday.

Cooper won the first of the four tourneys in Panama and the third in Puerto Rico last week. Don January, a Texan now playing out of Denver, won the second tourney in Venezuela.

January, defending champion Bob Toski of Miami, former U.S. Open champion Ed Furgol and Ed (Porky) Oliver, who was runner-up to Cooper at Puerto Rico, were considered Cooper's main threats for the $7,500 prize money.

Tar Heels Whip N.C. State, 74-67

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — Top-ranked North Carolina put down a desperate rally by North Carolina State in the last 3½ minutes and defeated the sixth-ranked Wolfpack 74-67 in an Atlantic Coast Conference basketball game Wednesday night.

The seemingly lethargic State team trimmed a 62-50 Tar Heel advantage down to 66-64 with about 1:40 remaining.

North Carolina sophomore York Larese and junior Lee Schaffer, however, quelled the uprising. Larese, who wound up with 22 points, sank four field goals in the last two minutes and Schaffer, who tallied 23 in the contest, dropped in a layup with 50 seconds left.

Keyser Captures PVC Crown, Whips Piedmont, 71-57

Tornadomen Grab Sixth League Title

Ronnie Smith Tops Scorers With 28 Points For Winners

PIEDMONT, W. Va.—Breaking a second period tie on Bill Keller's basket, Keyser High's Golden Tornado steadily increased its margin to defeat Piedmont High's Lions, 71-57, here last night and capture the Potomac Valley Conference crown.

The triumph was the 13th in 14 games for Coach John Shelton's crew and gave the Tornado an unbreakable hold on the loop diadem. Franklin with 10-1 mark cannot tie for the title because the Panthers play but one more conference game. Romney High's Pioneers ended the PVC season with a 10-2 mark.

Piedmont, dropping both games of the series to Keyser, gave the Tornado quintet a battle in the first half, the score being tied several times before Keyser pulled away to a 31-26 halftime lead.

With the count deadlocked at 25-all, Keller scored a basket which put Keyser ahead to stay and the winners steadily increased their margin throughout the remainder of the contest.

In scoring their sixth league title in the history of the PVC, Keyser pushed the margin to 53-40 in the third period and coasted home.

Old Germans Rack Up 15th Straight Win

Chaney's Lose To Loop-Leaders 108-69

The Old Germans continued on their merry ways in the City Basketball League last night by racking up their 15th consecutive win without a loss, fifth for the second half, by thumping Chaney's Transportation, 108-69, on the Carver High court.

Chaney's kept pace for the first two quarters and held the lead at 26-23 and 30-29 in the second stanza before Eddie Orndorff's goal sent the Gees on top for good at 31-30 with 4:30 remaining in the first half.

Big Don Moran paced the Gees with 34 points, 16 of which came in the first quarter. Moran didn't play in the third period. Following the leader were Glenn Smith with 21 points, Bob Bateson with 16, and Evers "Buck" Smith with 13. Ellsworth Lambert and Colin Detrick had 29 and 17 markers for the losers.

The Germans now have a pace-setting 5-0 second-half mark and lead runnerup Moose (5-1) by one-half game.

Knights of Columbus copped its third decision of the half by nosing out Forty Eight in a game that had the score tied 10 times, 82-75, as Regis Fair dumped in 27 points on 13 field goals and one for four fouls.

Now tide for third place with Old Exports on a 3-3 mark, the Knights were also paced by Marty Mullaney's 20 tallies. Bill Day and Ed Parsons spearheaded Forty and Eight's losing attack with 22 and 18, respectively. Dave Ritter tossed in 17 and John Poling 14.

The vanquished once had a 69-68 lead in the final stanza, but Bobby Christ meshed a goal and a foul toss to put the Caseys ahead for good at 71-69.

A pair of games are on tap for Fort Hill's floor tonight as the Knights and Exports battle it out at 7 p. m. for third place. Forty and Eight and Chaney's will clash in an 8:30 contest. Box scores:

CCC Men Golfers Eiect Max Bastian President

Membership Of 137 New High; Special Trophies Go To Four

Max W. Bastian was elected president of the Men's Golf Association at the sixth annual dinner meeting held last night at the Cumberland Country Club.

Mr. Bastian succeeds Benjamin A. LaNeve, who headed the organization for the past two years.

John Tucker Mason was elected vice president, George Bottorf, treasurer and George Garlitz, secretary, for the ensuing year.

Sixty members and invited guests attended the dinner at which Mr. LaNeve and Carroll Boggs, manager and golf professional at the Cumberland Country Club, presented trophies to winners and runners-up in tournaments held throughout the past year.

137 Members New High

President LaNeve reported the golf association's present membership of 137 is an all-time high and he praised the tournament and handicap committees and Boggs for the part they have played in the success of the program. There were 32 weekend tournaments held during the 1958 season by Boggs and Richard Buskey, assistant pro, in conjunction with the pro shop. The association handled 13 successful tournaments averaging 74 participants, and 28 played in the junior tournament.

William A. Douglas, president of the Cumberland Country Club, praised Boggs as a topnotch club manager and stated that the men's and women's golf associations were "wonderful assets of the club." Among improvements he proposed for the club was a steam room for members.

Proposes New Scorecard

John Tucker Mason proposed that a new scorecard be adopted so as to conform with the changes made on the course in recent years. It was decided that committees of the men's and women's association meet with Boggs to decide on the make-up of the new scorecard.

A special prize known as the "Air Conditioning Award" was presented to Glenn Wright, Boggs explained that the air conditioning system failed at the club and engineers who made repairs found a golf ball lodged in the machinery. Members stated that Wright had lost a golf ball and was planning to play it off the roof if he found it there. It was believed to be the same ball that fouled up the air conditioning. Wright received the ball in addition to the special award.

Lester Deneen, introduced as the rules putting champion, who had a telephone installed on the putting green, also received a trophy, as did James W. Beacham, who was appointed the club "Seniors" champion of 1958.

Plan Seniors Event

Mr. Beacham was named chairman of the Seniors Tournament Committee for 1959 and Boggs stated that he will donate to the winner an award, to be known as the Paul DeMarcay Seniors Trophy, named in honor of the former CCC manager and now a resident of Sarasota, Fla.

Carl Goetz, the Cumberland Country Club's "non-playing golfer," also was honored with a special award.

President LaNeve, in behalf of the association, presented a gift to Carroll Boggs in appreciation of the latter's services as manager and pro at the club.

Morton "Sonny" Perkin, Jr., presented the Morton Peskin Sr. Memorial Trophy to LaNeve, who won the first annual event last year.

Dr. Paul Castelle received the trophy earned by the late Dr. Albert Eskin in the fifth flight of the spring tournament. At the start of the program, those present stood in silence for one minute in memory of Dr. Eskin, one of the club's popular golfers, who died during the past year.

It was announced that 181 members participated in the spring and fall tournaments, and the following winners and runners-up received trophies:

Spring Tournament:

Championship Flight: George Petras, Benjamin LaNeve.

First: John Rokisky, John Wilson.

Fourth: Ed George, Charles Zembower.

Fifth :Dr. Milton S. Granet, Dr. A. C. Eskin.

Fall Tournament:

Fourth: Dr. J. P. Hallinan, Harold Marx.

Fifth: Ed Burkey, Braxton Godbey.

Beats Flintstone, Evens Series 46-44

OLDTOWN — Larry Crabtree's goal just as the final buzzer sounded gave Coach Ronnie Kellough's Oldtown High School cagers their first victory of the season here last night, beating Flintstone's Aggies, 46-44.

The triumph snapped a year-long drought, ending Oldtown's losing streak at 16 straight and forcing a playoff for Allegany County Class C honors with Flintstone.

The Aggies won the opener on January 13, 65-49, and a victory last night would have given Coach Stony Jackson's crew the right to play in the District No. 1 Class C playoffs at Hagerstown on March 6-7. But Oldtown's victory now necessitates a playoff at a later date on a neutral court with the winner qualifying to join Hancock of Washington County and Walkersville of Frederick County in the district battle.

Youngblood paced the victors with 16 points while Flintstone, now 3-7, had Clingerman as the top scorer with 19 tallies. The lineups:

Hyde Agrees To Terms With Senators Nine

United Press International

Dick Hyde, the little submarine-style relief ace who pitched so well for the Washington Senators last season that he may wind up hurling for the New York Yankees next season, signed Wednesday for an estimated $14,000.

That salary represented a boost of about $6,000 for the 155-pound right-hander who compiled a 10-3 record and a 1.75 earned run average in 53 games last season. The Yankees have been angling for him ever since the end of the season and it is possible he may yet wind up with them before the 1959 campaign is underway.

11 Still Unsigned

Hyde's agreement left 11 Senators unsigned including such key men as Roy Sievers, the team's "big stick," and Albie Pearson, the little centerfielder who beat out the Yankees' Ryne Duren for American League Rookie of the Year honors. Among the other nine is pitcher Truman Clevenger, who failed to agree to terms Wednesday after a conference with club president Cal Griffith.

The Yankees, meanwhile, announced that Don Larsen, the perfect-game pitcher of the 1956 World Series, agreed to terms. The Yankees, of course, did not reveal the terms but they are estimated at $17,000 — the same amount he received last season. First-baseman Marv Throneberry and Frank Leja also agreed to terms, leaving 10 Yankees unsigned.

Larsen had a 9-6 record and a 3.08 earned run average last season after a brilliant start which suggested he might at last be developing into a big winner over the course of an entire season.

The Pittsburgh Pirates announced the signing of outfielder Bob Skinner and catcher Smoky Burgess. Skinner hit .321 with 13 home runs and 70 rbi' last year. Burgess was recently acquired from Cincinnati.

Pafko Inks Pact

Wednesday's signings left only three Pirates not under contract for the new season. They are pitcher Bob Porterfield, first baseman Rocky Nelson and outfielder Joe Christopher.

Veteran Andy Pafko and rookie infielder Mel Roach became the 26th and 27th Milwaukee Braves to return signed contracts. Roach, 26, is one of the most mentioned prospects to succeed second baseman Red Schoendienst, who is on the shelf with tuberculosis. Pafko, 38, signed up for his 17th major league season.

North High Can Wrap Up CVAL Cage Title Tonight

Hubs Aim For 19th Straight Triumph Over Martinsburg

Coach Mel Henry's North High School floormen can wrap up the championship for the 1958-59 campaign tonight if they whip the Martinsburg High School Bulldogs at Hagerstown.

Undefeated in 18 games and victorious in eight straight league engagements the Hubs figure to win over a Martinsburg quint it whipped earlier in the season on the Bulldogs court by the score of 50-39.

Fort Hill Runner-Up

The Hubs' closest competitor in the six school league is Fort Hill High School which trails the leaders with five wins and two losses.

North High has whipped Fort Hill, South Hagerstown and Frederick twice and Martinsburg and Allegany once. The Henrymen windup their league campaign with Allegany at Hagerstown on Wednesday, February 25.

Frederick High School won the league title in 1957 when the cage circuit was revived and Fort Hill bagged the championship last season.

Bayard High School's Tigers will be shooting for their 14th victory of the season tonight when the host Beverly High School. The Grant Countians have copped six of their last seven starts and figure to sweep the series with Beverly which dropped the opener by the score of 64-54.

Toski, Furgol Are Chief Contenders

KINGSTON, Jamaica (UPI)—Pete Cooper, the 43-year-old pro from Lakeland, Fla., was favored Wednesday to make it three triumphs out of four tries on the Caribbean golf circuit's fourth and final tournament, the Jamaica Open starting at the Daymanas Golf and Country Club course Thursday.

Cooper won the first of the four tourneys in Panama and the third in Puerto Rico last week. Don January, a Texan now playing out of Denver, won the second tourney in Venezuela.

January, defending champion Bob Toski of Miami, former U.S. Open champion Ed Furgol and Ed (Porky) Oliver, who was runner-up to Cooper at Puerto Rico, were considered Cooper's main threats for the $7,500 prize money.

Maphis Sets Two Scoring Marks As Romney Wins, 82-63

Chalks Up Area Mark Of 581 And PVC Total Of 472

WARDENSVILLE, W. Va. — High-scoring junior forward Bill Maphis set a pair of area basketball scoring records here last night as he tallied 32 points while leading his Romney High School mates to an 82-63 triumph over Wardensville High's quintet in a Potomac Valley Conference engagement.

Bill's total raised his conference mark to 472 points in 16 games, an average of 29.5 per contest. This betters the old record of 456 tallies held by Jim Vetter of Moorefield in 17 conference games. Vetter set the mark in 1958.

Raises His Average

In addition to setting a new PVC scoring record Maphis also raised his per game average in the loop above the record average set by Carl Hartman of Ridgeley in 1951—29.0 points per contest. Maphis has one more PVC game to play when Romney meets Capon Bridge on Friday.

The second area mark punctured by the basket-bombing all-state nominee was Herman "Buddy" Meyer's 557 points in the regular 1957 season. Maphis' scoring spree against Wardensville pushed his seasonal total to 581 tallies in 19 games. He still has a pair of contests against Capon Bridge Friday and Martinsburg on Saturday, February 28, in which to shoot for the all-time area scoring record of 637 points set by Bruce May of Hyndman in 1954. May collected his total in 27 games while Maphis will play but 21 this year.

Can Beat Mays

Maphis' average for 19 games is 30.6 per contest, far above the 27.9 average recorded by Meyer of Mountaineer High in 1957. If Bill maintains his present pace in the final two Romney games he can set a new average mark as well as beat May's total scoring record.

Coach Clyde Green's Romney quint jumped out in front against Wardensville and was never headed. However, Wardensville remained within eight or 10 points until the third stanza when the Pioneers tallied 21 points, 12 by Maphis, to break the game open.

Dave Kirk pitched in 22 points for Romney while Jim Fridley tallied 24 for Wardensville. The lineups:

Liston Is Winner

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—Heavyweight contender Sonny Liston registered his 16th straight victory Wednesday night by flooring big Mike DeJohn twice with body blows for a technical knockout in the sixth round at the Miami Beach Exhibition Hall.

Liston of Philadelphia, weighing 209½ pounds to 202 for DeJohn of Syracuse, N.Y., gave Mike such a battering that referee Jimmy Peerless stopped the televised bout at 2:43 of the sixth session when DeJohn was on the canvas the second time.

Fordham's Rams Given Bid To NIT

Fifth Team Named To Vie In Tourney

NEW YORK (UPI) — Fordham (13-5), which upset St. John's last Saturday in a bid for top local honors, Wednesday night became the fifth team named to the 12-team National Invitation Tournament at Madison Square Garden, March 12-21.

Previously picked for the 22nd annual spring competition were St. John's, Villanova, Oklahoma City, and St. Bonaventure.

Fordham, coached by Johnny Bach, also had been reportedly under consideration for a berth in the NCAA tournament. The Rams, who have won six of their last eight games, will be appearing in the NIT for the third time. They finished fourth in 1943; last year they defeated St. Francis (Pa.), 83-59, in the first round, but lost to Dayton, 74-70, in the quarter-finals.

The Rams' victims included Yale, Syracuse, Pittsburgh, George Washington, and Army. They lost to Niagara, St. Francis (Pa.), Connecticut, Adelphi, and Georgetown (D. C.). All five Ram starters have averaged scoring in double figures, led by John Brady with 17.8 points per game.

Considerable Reaction Seen To Bass Proposal

Commission Urges Unlimited Season

(Editor's note: Since the State Game and Inland Fish Commission came out recently for an unlimited bass season, it has caused considerable discussion among sportsmen. Lefty Kreh, a recognized authority on Maryland hunting and fishing and outdoors columnist for The Frederick Post, gives the various views on the proposal)

By BERNARD KREH
Frederick Post Outdoors Writer

The Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission has proposed a change in existing bass fishing laws for state anglers which promises to promote considerable reaction.

Bass season at present opens on June 1 and extends through the last day of November. This applies to both smallmouth and largemouth bass. The daily limit is ten bass longer than nine inches.

The bill the Commission is presenting to the Legislature would allow anglers to fish throughout the year for bass; no closed season on either specie. It would provide the commission with the right to close any area, if it felt that during a specific time it would be harmful to allow fishing in certain waters. The daily limit would be reduced to five bass over nine inches in length.

The Commission contends studies have shown that only a few bass are needed to provide enough spawn for future breeding, and the state's waters have more than enough bass at present.

Survival of bass depends much more on environmental factors than on fishing pressure. Tagging programs have indicated that only 15 per cent of every 100 bass tagged are caught by anglers.

Albert Powell, superintendent of hatcheries, says that "about 40 per cent of the bass nine inches in our rivers never reach ten or eleven inches in length. Natural mortality results in this large loss of fish to anglers. The Commission feels they should be harvested by the fishermen rather than go to waste."

The commission also pointed out the fact 30 states now have a year-around open season on bass. No data has been offered to prove this open season detrimental to bass fish or fishing.

The reaction to this proposal by the Commission has brought varied results. Generally speaking Central and Western Maryland approve of the year-around bass season but not the five daily limit.

Eastern Shore anglers differ in their opinions, but most feel it would be harmful to bass on the Shore. They feel too many largemouth bass would be taken during the spawning period. This is the time, during late spring, when male bass are guarding the nest. Anything approaching the nest is attacked by the sentinel bass, fishing lures included.

Tom Cofield, Outdoor Editor of Baltimore News-Post, says:

"There aren't as many bass on the Shore as in the Western Maryland rivers, and in the summer months Shore bass are a little more difficult to catch. In the spring, during the spawning period the reverse is true. These bass can be taken easily on bright flashy casting or spinning lures. Too many big bass, on the nest, would be taken from Eastern Shore waters if fishing was allowed at this time of the year."

George Blumeneaur, of Frederick, fishes several times a week for bass. "Actually we will catch less bass if we are given a 12 month season and a limit of five each day, than if we keep the present six-month season with a daily limit of ten.

"You have to forget about December, January, February and March. Because of high water at this time of the year, muddy streams, or even the waters covered with ice, these four months are of no use to the fisherman. This gives us two more months of fishing than we have now and allows us only half as many bass daily," he stated.

Bob Moberly, another Frederick angler thinks the all-year season would be good for another reason. "Many fishermen go out on opening day, just because it's opening day. This puts a lot of pressure on the fish. With no opening to attend, no big crowd of anglers are going to be on the rivers for any special one day and it should be beneficial," Moberly explained.

Of the anglers in Maryland who were asked their views on the proposal, 95 per cent of them felt an all-year season with a ten, not five, daily limit of bass, would be the best thing. Some fishermen felt the Commission would raise the daily limit back to ten or eliminate it entirely.

Several of the fishermen suggested that rarely does the average angler catch a limit of ten bass. They felt if he had such a good day, he should be allowed to keep them.

Indoor Tennis Tourney Slated

Olmedo Entered In U.S. Event Today

NEW YORK (AP)—If Alex Olmedo is the best amateur tennis player in the world, as many contend, he'll get another chance to prove it this weekend.

The 22-year-old U.S. Davis Cup hero will make his first U.S. start of the year in the National Indoor Championships, opening Thursday at the 7th Regiment Armory.

Olmedo must face a strong international field, including cup teammates Barry MacKay and Earl Buchholz. But, more than that, he also probably must outlast the formidable Dick Savitt, who won the Australian and Wimbledon titles in 1951 and then quit bigtime competitive tennis.

He subsequently returned and won this tournament last year and is favored to repeat as the No. 1 seeded player.

Tournament directors had no hesitancy about subordinating Olmedo to the No. 2 spot despite his brilliant recent record of almost singlehandedly winning the Davis Cup and then scoring in the Australian National Championship.

The young Peruvian is not accustomed to hardwood play and he is certain to find some trouble with the tricky lighting, low-hanging beams and other adverse playing conditions. Should he win, it would rank as another near-miracle.

Lindy McDaniel Undergoes Knife

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals announced that pitcher Lindy McDaniel underwent an emergency appendectomy Wednesday in Meridian, Miss.

The Cardinals said St. Joseph's Hospital officials told them there was no rupture of his appendix and no complications have developed.

McDaniel was driving through Mississippi en route to join the Cardinals for spring training at St. Petersburg, Fla., when he felt ill and stopped at the hospital for a checkup.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Frank (Chico) Howard, the $108,000 bonus baby of the Los Angeles Dodgers who starred with Green Bay in the Three - I League last season, left here Wednesday for Vero Beach, Fla. and spring training.

Maphis Sets Two Scoring Marks As Romney Wins, 82-63

Chalks Up Area Mark Of 581 And PVC Total Of 472

WARDENSVILLE, W. Va. — High-scoring junior forward Bill Maphis set a pair of area basketball scoring records here last night as he tallied 32 points while leading his Romney High School mates to an 82-63 triumph over Wardensville High's quintet in a Potomac Valley Conference engagement.

Bill's total raised his conference mark to 472 points in 16 games, an average of 29.5 per contest. This betters the old record of 456 tallies held by Jim Vetter of Moorefield in 17 conference games. Vetter set the mark in 1958.

Raises His Average

In addition to setting a new PVC scoring record Maphis also raised his per game average in the loop above the record average set by Carl Hartman of Ridgeley in 1951—29.0 points per contest. Maphis has one more PVC game to play when Romney meets Capon Bridge on Friday.

The second area mark punctured by the basket-bombing all-state nominee was Herman "Buddy" Meyer's 557 points in the regular 1957 season. Maphis' scoring spree against Wardensville pushed his seasonal total to 581 tallies in 19 games. He still has a pair of contests against Capon Bridge Friday and Martinsburg on Saturday, February 28, in which to shoot for the all-time area scoring record of 637 points set by Bruce May of Hyndman in 1954. May collected his total in 27 games while Maphis will play but 21 this year.

Can Beat Mays

Maphis' average for 19 games is 30.6 per contest, far above the 27.9 average recorded by Meyer of Mountaineer High in 1957. If Bill maintains his present pace in the final two Romney games he can set a new average mark as well as beat May's total scoring record.

Coach Clyde Green's Romney quint jumped out in front against Wardensville and was never headed. However, Wardensville remained within eight or 10 points until the third stanza when the Pioneers tallied 21 points, 12 by Maphis, to break the game open.

Dave Kirk pitched in 22 points for Romney while Jim Fridley tallied 24 for Wardensville. The lineups:

Two other games were staged last night as Kingsley Methodist brought its record to 7-8 with a close 39-38 verdict over Emmanuel Methodist and Park Place Methodist copped its seventh triumph in 16 outings with a 42-31 win over St. Luke's Lutheran.

Two games are set for tonight in the American loop. Fordham's Rams Given Bid To NIT

Fifth Team Named To Vie In Tourney

NEW YORK (UPI) — Fordham (13-5), which upset St. John's last Saturday in a bid for top local honors, Wednesday night became the fifth team named to the 12-team National Invitation Tournament at Madison Square Garden, March 12-21.

Previously picked for the 22nd annual spring competition were St. John's, Villanova, Oklahoma City, and St. Bonaventure.

Fordham, coached by Johnny Bach, also had been reportedly under consideration for a berth in the NCAA tournament. The Rams, who have won six of their last eight games, will be appearing in the NIT for the third time. They finished fourth in 1943; last year they defeated St. Francis (Pa.), 83-59, in the first round, but lost to Dayton, 74-70, in the quarter-finals.

The Rams' victims included Yale, Syracuse, Pittsburgh, George Washington, and Army. They lost to Niagara, St. Francis (Pa.), Connecticut, Adelphi, and Georgetown (D. C.). All five Ram starters have averaged scoring in double figures, led by John Brady with 17.8 points per game.

Considerable Reaction Seen To Bass Proposal

Commission Urges Unlimited Season

(Editor's note: Since the State Game and Inland Fish Commission came out recently for an unlimited bass season, it has caused considerable discussion among sportsmen. Lefty Kreh, a recognized authority on Maryland hunting and fishing and outdoors columnist for The Frederick Post, gives the various views on the proposal)

By BERNARD KREH
Frederick Post Outdoors Writer

The Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission has proposed a change in existing bass fishing laws for state anglers which promises to promote considerable reaction.

Bass season at present opens on June 1 and extends through the last day of November. This applies to both smallmouth and largemouth bass. The daily limit is ten bass longer than nine inches.

The bill the Commission is presenting to the Legislature would allow anglers to fish throughout the year for bass; no closed season on either specie. It would provide the commission with the right to close any area, if it felt that during a specific time it would be harmful to allow fishing in certain waters. The daily limit would be reduced to five bass over nine inches in length.

The Commission contends studies have shown that only a few bass are needed to provide enough spawn for future breeding, and the state's waters have more than enough bass at present.

Survival of bass depends much more on environmental factors than on fishing pressure. Tagging programs have indicated that only 15 per cent of every 100 bass tagged are caught by anglers.

Albert Powell, superintendent of hatcheries, says that "about 40 per cent of the bass nine inches in our rivers never reach ten or eleven inches in length. Natural mortality results in this large loss of fish to anglers. The Commission feels they should be harvested by the fishermen rather than go to waste."

The commission also pointed out the fact 30 states now have a year-around open season on bass. No data has been offered to prove this open season detrimental to bass fish or fishing.

The reaction to this proposal by the Commission has brought varied results. Generally speaking Central and Western Maryland approve of the year-around bass season but not the five daily limit.

Eastern Shore anglers differ in their opinions, but most feel it would be harmful to bass on the Shore. They feel too many largemouth bass would be taken during the spawning period. This is the time, during late spring, when male bass are guarding the nest. Anything approaching the nest is attacked by the sentinel bass, fishing lures included.

Tom Cofield, Outdoor Editor of Baltimore News-Post, says:

"There aren't as many bass on the Shore as in the Western Maryland rivers, and in the summer months Shore bass are a little more difficult to catch. In the spring, during the spawning period the reverse is true. These bass can be taken easily on bright flashy casting or spinning lures. Too many big bass, on the nest, would be taken from Eastern Shore waters if fishing was allowed at this time of the year."

George Blumeneaur, of Frederick, fishes several times a week for bass. "Actually we will catch less bass if we are given a 12 month season and a limit of five each day, than if we keep the present six-month season with a daily limit of ten.

"You have to forget about December, January, February and March. Because of high water at this time of the year, muddy streams, or even the waters covered with ice, these four months are of no use to the fisherman. This gives us two more months of fishing than we have now and allows us only half as many bass daily," he stated.

Bob Moberly, another Frederick angler thinks the all-year season would be good for another reason. "Many fishermen go out on opening day, just because it's opening day. This puts a lot of pressure on the fish. With no opening to attend, no big crowd of anglers are going to be on the rivers for any special one day and it should be beneficial," Moberly explained.

Of the anglers in Maryland who were asked their views on the proposal, 95 per cent of them felt an all-year season with a ten, not five, daily limit of bass, would be the best thing. Some fishermen felt the Commission would raise the daily limit back to ten or eliminate it entirely.

Several of the fishermen suggested that rarely does the average angler catch a limit of ten bass. They felt if he had such a good day, he should be allowed to keep them.

Lee Savold Said Critically Ill

PARAMUS, N.J. (AP)—Lee N. Savold, 43, former heavyweight boxer who fought Joe Louis and other well-known figures in the boxing world, was reported critically ill Wednesday at Bergen Pines Hospital.

Savold was admitted to the hospital Tuesday. Exact nature of his illness was not disclosed.

He once held the British version of the world heavyweight championship after knocking out British heavyweight Bruce Woodcock in 1950.

Indoor Tennis Tourney Slated

Olmedo Entered In U.S. Event Today

NEW YORK (AP)—If Alex Olmedo is the best amateur tennis player in the world, as many contend, he'll get another chance to prove it this weekend.

The 22-year-old U.S. Davis Cup hero will make his first U.S. start of the year in the National Indoor Championships, opening Thursday at the 7th Regiment Armory.

Olmedo must face a strong international field, including cup teammates Barry MacKay and Earl Buchholz. But, more than that, he also probably must outlast the formidable Dick Savitt, who won the Australian and Wimbledon titles in 1951 and then quit bigtime competitive tennis.

He subsequently returned and won this tournament last year and is favored to repeat as the No. 1 seeded player.

Tournament directors had no hesitancy about subordinating Olmedo to the No. 2 spot despite his brilliant recent record of almost singlehandedly winning the Davis Cup and then scoring in the Australian National Championship.

The young Peruvian is not accustomed to hardwood play and he is certain to find some trouble with the tricky lighting, low-hanging beams and other adverse playing conditions. Should he win, it would rank as another near-miracle.

Lindy McDaniel Undergoes Knife

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals announced that pitcher Lindy McDaniel underwent an emergency appendectomy Wednesday in Meridian, Miss.

The Cardinals said St. Joseph's Hospital officials told them there was no rupture of his appendix and no complications have developed.

McDaniel was driving through Mississippi en route to join the Cardinals for spring training at St. Petersburg, Fla., when he felt ill and stopped at the hospital for a checkup.

Leaves For Training

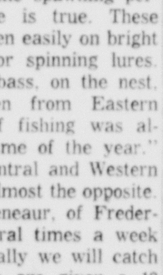

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Frank (Chico) Howard, the $108,000 bonus baby of the Los Angeles Dodgers who starred with Green Bay in the Three - I League last season, left here Wednesday for Vero Beach, Fla. and spring training.

East Germans Angered By Ban At Ski Events

Entry Sent Late To Squaw Valley

BERLIN (UPI)—East German Communists, still angry because their skiers have been barred from the North American championships at Squaw Valley, Calif., Wednesday charged the United States has carried the "cold war" into sports and questioned its right to stage the 1960 winter Olympics.

The blast was contained in Wednesday's edition of "Neues Deutschland," the official Communist Party newspaper.

Squaw Valley organizers advised East German sports officials last week end that their skiers could not compete in the North American championships, Feb. 21-23 because the team's entry had been received after the Feb. 12 deadline.

The East Germans also fired telegrams to President Eisenhower and Chicago's Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, asking them for help.

The East German Skiing Association's cable to Eisenhower said a congressional resolution, signed by the President, had promised there would be no discrimination against the "entry of sportsmen from the peoples democratic countries."

The East Germans apparently forgot that the congressional resolution referred to next year's winter Olympic games at Squaw Valley. The ski meet there next week end has nothing to do with the Olympics.

Brundage said the claimed rejection of the East German team appeared due purely to the East Germans' failure to get their entry to Squaw Valley before the deadline.

Nieman Inks Bird Pact

Outfielder Plagued By 1958 Injuries

BALTIMORE (AP) — Bob Nieman, an eight year veteran in the American League, Wednesday signed his 1959 contract with the Baltimore Orioles.

The hard-hitting left fielder was plagued by a series of injuries in the 1958 season but still managed to post a .325 batting average to push lifetime mark to .293.

He walloped 16 home runs, just 2 short of his record of 18 set in 1952 while with the St. Louis Browns, and drove in 60 runs.

Nieman was obtained from Chicago in May 1956 in a transaction which also brought Connie Johnson, George Kell and Mike Fornieles to Baltimore in exchange for Jim Wilson and Dave Philley.

In his first year with the Birds, he established a number of Oriole records which still stand. His .320 average was the highest qualifying batting percentage posted by a modern-day Baltimore major league. He hit safely in 20 consecutive games, a record, and drew 90 bases on balls, also a record for an Oriole in the majors.

Catholic Loop Cage Race Nears Finish

Only nine more games remain on the schedule before the Catholic Youth Basketball League's second half championship race draws to a close on Thursday, February 26.

Two of the contests are on tap for tonight on Cumberland courts.

St. Michael's first half champions and leaders of the second half race with a 7-0 record will be angling for their 14th consecutive victory when they do battle with St. Patrick's at 7:30 o'clock at SS. Peter and Paul gym.

St. Peter's of Westernport will meet the Gaels on St. Mary's court at 7:30.

SS. Peter and Paul (6-1) was slated to oppose St. Ambrose, victor in five of seven contests, at 6:45 p.m. on the SS. Peter and Paul court, but the game was postponed last night because of illness on the St. Ambrose team.

Coach Joe Nolan of the visitors said the game tentatively has been reset for 6:30 p.m. on Monday on the local court.

First Landing Scores By Neck

MIAMI, Fla. (UPI) — First Landing, tabbed as the horse to watch in this year's Kentucky Derby, scored a narrow neck victory Wednesday in the $29,650 Everglades Stakes at Hialeah.

Defeated last week in his 1959 debut, First Landing's initial triumph of the year occurred in a blanket finish. Moony, racing from fourth place in the stretch, just missed catching last year's juvenile champion, Rare Rice.

Hill Gets Son

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — The wife of Chicago Bears' end Harlon Hill gave birth here Tuesday to a son. Both mother and baby were "doing fine" at the hospital. t was the first son for the Hills, who have two daughters.

The Sports Patrol

By STEVE SNIDER

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Marquis of Queensberry was a stout fella in his day but he didn't really write those famous boxing rules after all.

"A man named John Graham Chambers wrote the rules," said ring historian Nat Fleischer. "But according to the custom of the day (1867) he sought a patron to lend his name and Queensberry acquiesced, thereby gaining a lasting fame he didn't deserve."

And if there's anything else you want to know about boxing—past, present or immediate future—it'll be found in Fleischer's 1959 "Ring Record Book and Boxing Encyclopedia" now being shipped to a select list of customers around the world.

"If it's not in the book, let me know and I'll try to find out for the 1960 edition," said Nat.

But it's odds-on there's little missing from Fleischer's four-pound mass of boxing facts that's a standard "work" for sports writers, broadcasters, quiz show bugs, and just plain fistic fiends from New York to Nigeria and all points between.

Floyd Third Lightest Champ

Current titleholder Floyd Patterson is the third lightest man ever to win the heavyweight championship. He was 182½ the night he won. Bob Fitzsimmons (172) and Tommy Burns (179) were lighter. Biggest was Primo Carnera at 267½.

There have been only eight million dollar fight gates in history. Jack Dempsey participated in five, Joe Louis in the other three. Louis and Billy Conn, in their second fight, rated the only $100 "ringside" ticket price in history. But for the first row only, the Corbett-Sullivan fight way back when also cost $100.

In 1948, two fights in New York state started one night and ended the next. At Syracuse, Joey DeJohn and Sonny Horne were halted by a rainstorm at the end of two rounds and they fought the remaining eight the following night, DeJohn winning. Same thing happened at New York City after three rounds of the Red Applegate-Bill Weinberg bout, Weinberg winning the next night.

Notes Shortest Fight

The first bout ever televised was in London in 1933, an exhibition between Archie Bell and Laurie Raiteri. First major bout telecast in the U. S. was Lou Nova-Max Baer, New York, 1939.

When Joe Louis knocked out Max Schmeling at 2:04 of the first round in 1938, the figure filberts have determined Louis was paid at the rate of $2,987 per second for his night's work. Louis knocked out four other challengers in the first round — Jack Roper, John Henry Lewis, Tami Mauriello and Buddy Baer.

Shortest fight on record: Teddy Barker, England, scored a TKO over Bib Roberts, Nigerian welterweight, in exactly 10 seconds. There was one punch, no count.

Ezzard Charles beat Joey Maxim all five times they met between 1942-51. Ezzard won all three from Archie Moore 1946-48. Jersey Joe Walcott, at 37, was the oldest to win the heavyweight crown. Floyd Patterson, 21, was the youngest.

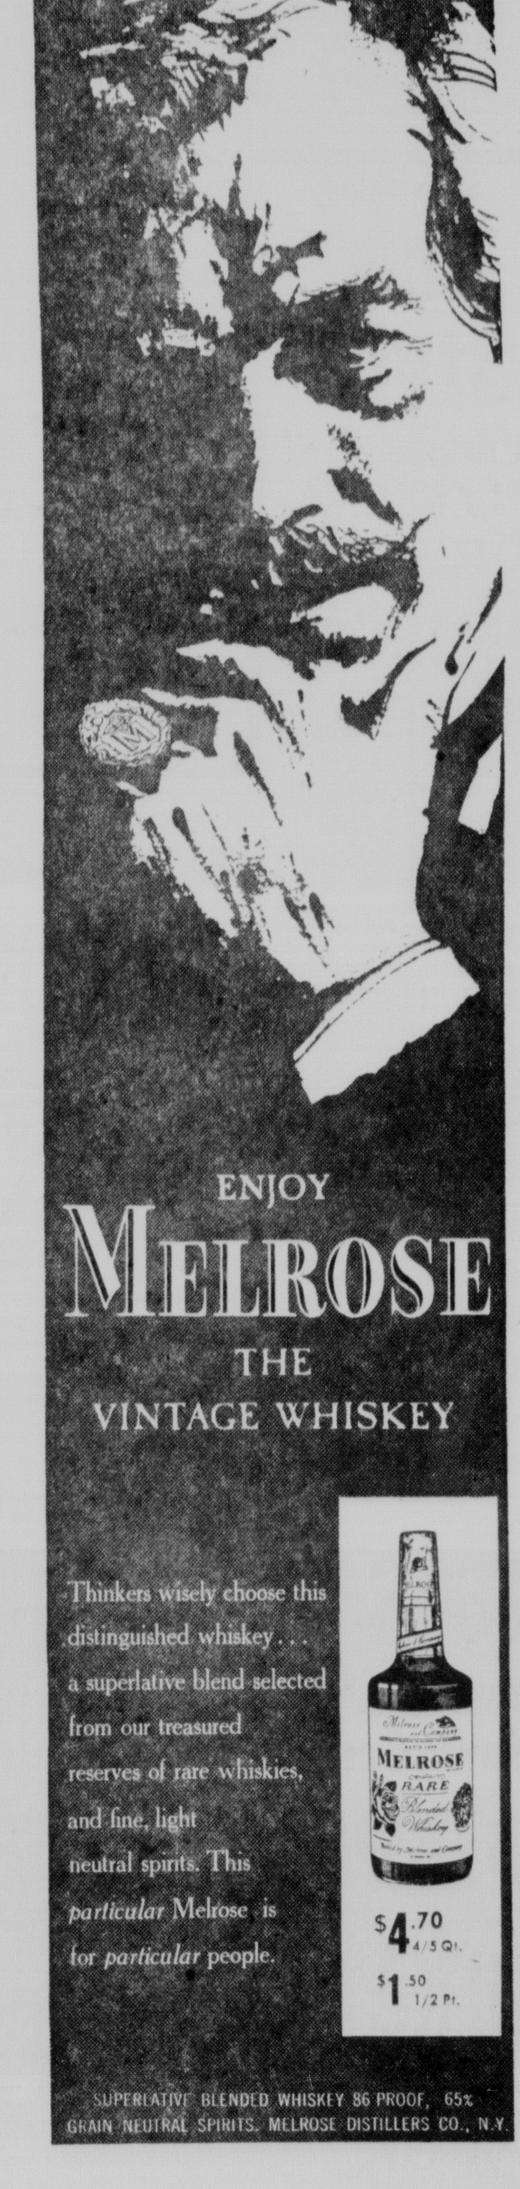

And so it goes for 939 pages, including the complete records of current fighters, plus the top hands of yesteryear. Nat printed only 3,500 copies of which 3,000 already are being shipped to regular customers. That leaves 500 for sale at Ring Magazine, New York, priced at $8.50 in the U.S., $8.75 overseas. Supply lasts roughly 60 days.

East Germans Angered By Ban At Ski Events

Entry Sent Late To Squaw Valley

BERLIN (UPI)—East German Communists, still angry because their skiers have been barred from the North American championships at Squaw Valley, Calif., Wednesday charged the United States has carried the "cold war" into sports and questioned its right to stage the 1960 winter Olympics.

The blast was contained in Wednesday's edition of "Neues Deutschland," the official Communist Party newspaper.

Squaw Valley organizers advised East German sports officials last week end that their skiers could not compete in the North American championships, Feb. 21-23 because the team's entry had been received after the Feb. 12 deadline.

The East Germans also fired telegrams to President Eisenhower and Chicago's Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, asking them for help.

The East German Skiing Association's cable to Eisenhower said a congressional resolution, signed by the President, had promised there would be no discrimination against the "entry of sportsmen from the peoples democratic countries."

The East Germans apparently forgot that the congressional resolution referred to next year's winter Olympic games at Squaw Valley. The ski meet there next week end has nothing to do with the Olympics.

Brundage said the claimed rejection of the East German team appeared due purely to the East Germans' failure to get their entry to Squaw Valley before the deadline.

Catholic Loop Cage Race Nears Finish

Only nine more games remain on the schedule before the Catholic Youth Basketball League's second half championship race draws to a close on Thursday, February 26.

Two of the contests are on tap for tonight on Cumberland courts.

St. Michael's first half champions and leaders of the second half race with a 7-0 record will be angling for their 14th consecutive victory when they do battle with St. Patrick's at 7:30 o'clock at SS. Peter and Paul gym.

St. Peter's of Westernport will meet the Gaels on St. Mary's court at 7:30.

SS. Peter and Paul (6-1) was slated to oppose St. Ambrose, victor in five of seven contests, at 6:45 p.m. on the SS. Peter and Paul court, but the game was postponed last night because of illness on the St. Ambrose team.

Coach Joe Nolan of the visitors said the game tentatively has been reset for 6:30 p.m. on Monday on the local court.

Nieman Inks Bird Pact

Outfielder Plagued By 1958 Injuries

BALTIMORE (AP) — Bob Nieman, an eight year veteran in the American League, Wednesday signed his 1959 contract with the Baltimore Orioles.

The hard-hitting left fielder was plagued by a series of injuries in the 1958 season but still managed to post a .325 batting average to push lifetime mark to .293.

He walloped 16 home runs, just 2 short of his record of 18 set in 1952 while with the St. Louis Browns, and drove in 60 runs.

Nieman was obtained from Chicago in May 1956 in a transaction which also brought Connie Johnson, George Kell and Mike Fornieles to Baltimore in exchange for Jim Wilson and Dave Philley.

In his first year with the Birds, he established a number of Oriole records which still stand. His .320 average was the highest qualifying batting percentage posted by a modern-day Baltimore major league. He hit safely in 20 consecutive games, a record, and drew 90 bases on balls, also a record for an Oriole in the majors.

Jedgar Ruler Wins Delmarva Purse At Bowie

BOWIE, Md., Feb. 18 (AP) — Jedgar Ruler, an invader from Santa Anita, Calif., beat a field of topnotch sprinters by 3½ lengths today in the $4,000 Delmarva Purse at Bowie Race Course.

Running for the Murcain-Byers Stable, Jedgar Ruler turned 5½ furlongs without being fully extended. His time was 1:05 2/5.

S.A.L. Stable's Bunny's Babe finished second with John W. Melanson's Melpet Jr. in third place, three-quarters of a length back.

Jedgar Ruler paid $6, $4.40 and $3; Bunny's Babe $7 and $4 and Melpet Jr. $3.40.

Apprentice Larry Reynolds needed only to hold on to pick up his second win of the day. Jedgar Ruler took the lead at the start and from then on steadily pulled away from the field. Reynolds won in the fifth race aboard Stepping Count.

First Landing Scores By Neck

MIAMI, Fla. (UPI) — First Landing, tabbed as the horse to watch in this year's Kentucky Derby, scored a narrow neck victory Wednesday in the $29,650 Everglades Stakes at Hialeah.

Defeated last week in his 1959 debut, First Landing's initial triumph of the year occurred in a blanket finish. Moony, racing from fourth place in the stretch, just missed catching last year's juvenile champion, Rare Rice.

Hill Gets Son

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — The wife of Chicago Bears' end Harlon Hill gave birth here Tuesday to a son. Both mother and baby were "doing fine" at the hospital. t was the first son for the Hills, who have two daughters.

The Sports Patrol

By STEVE SNIDER

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Marquis of Queensberry was a stout fella in his day but he didn't really write those famous boxing rules after all.

"A man named John Graham Chambers wrote the rules," said ring historian Nat Fleischer. "But according to the custom of the day (1867) he sought a patron to lend his name and Queensberry acquiesced, thereby gaining a lasting fame he didn't deserve."

And if there's anything else you want to know about boxing—past, present or immediate future—it'll be found in Fleischer's 1959 "Ring Record Book and Boxing Encyclopedia" now being shipped to a select list of customers around the world.

"If it's not in the book, let me know and I'll try to find out for the 1960 edition," said Nat.

But it's odds-on there's little missing from Fleischer's four-pound mass of boxing facts that's a standard "work" for sports writers, broadcasters, quiz show bugs, and just plain fistic fiends from New York to Nigeria and all points between.

Floyd Third Lightest Champ

Current titleholder Floyd Patterson is the third lightest man ever to win the heavyweight championship. He was 182½ the night he won. Bob Fitzsimmons (172) and Tommy Burns (179) were lighter. Biggest was Primo Carnera at 267½.

There have been only eight million dollar fight gates in history. Jack Dempsey participated in five, Joe Louis in the other three. Louis and Billy Conn, in their second fight, rated the only $100 "ringside" ticket price in history. But for the first row only, the Corbett-Sullivan fight way back when also cost $100.

In 1948, two fights in New York state started one night and ended the next. At Syracuse, Joey DeJohn and Sonny Horne were halted by a rainstorm at the end of two rounds and they fought the remaining eight the following night, DeJohn winning. Same thing happened at New York City after three rounds of the Red Applegate-Bill Weinberg bout. Weinberg winning the next night.

Notes Shortest Fight

The first bout ever televised was in London in 1933, an exhibition between Archie Bell and Laurie Raiteri. First major bout telecast in the U. S. was Lou Nova-Max Baer, New York, 1939.

When Joe Louis knocked out Max Schmeling at 2:04 of the first round in 1938, the figure filberts have determined Louis was

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — Elizabeth Taylor is expected to sign any day now to star in Edna St. Vincent Millay's "A Lovely Light." Liz read the script, liked it, and says if Columbia can get Josh Logan she will say "yes." The top brass, Sam Briskin and Abe Schneider, say they have made a deal with Logan to direct and with Michael Blackfort to produce, and expect Elizabeth to make the movie in 1960.

Once again the continental charmer Curt Jurgens has signed for a Hollywood-produced movie—and once again he won't make it in Hollywood. Curt told Buddy Adler he will make "Blue Angel" with May Britt (the original made a star of Marlene Dietrich). It will be shot in Hamburg, Germany, which at least makes sense. It's a German story.

At the present moment Curt is in Hong Kong completing "Ferry to Hong Kong." His picture just before this was "Inn of the Sixth Happiness" also for 20th, shot in England and Scotland.

The people who like Bob Hope shouldn't ask him to appear at benefits until he feels better. His doctors have said that rest is imperative and rest is all he needs. He can never say "no." when he is asked to help someone. But now let's help him by letting him have time to relax.

One date he plans to keep is with former President Harry Truman in Kansas City, where Robin is booked to appear with the symphony orchestra the end of March.

"Should you do it?" I asked Bob.

"Oh, heck! I'll be rested by then," he said. And I'm sure he will, but no more treks overseas. The last one in Africa and Spain is what exhausted him and gave him the blood clot in his eye.

Really too bad that Shirley Jones and Jack Cassidy only signed for a two week engagement at the Cocoanut Grove. They are so good. They leave Feb. 23 for Palm Beach to open in "A Pound in Your Pocket," an English play, at the Royal Poinciana Theatre. They'll stay there until March 15, and may bring the play to New York.

I suppose you could say it was a lucky mistake for Patricia Cutts who was acquitted over a traffic violation around Christmas time when she insisted the police made a mistake.

I thoroughly enjoyed the party I hosted for "Ingenue," a new teenage magazine. All of our top names in the teenage group, plus a few of the older ones, several teachers, professors and students from the high schools were our guests, and what a good time they all had drinking non-alcoholic doubles and dancing.

Church Honors Scouts Units

General chairman Grady H. Wolford presided and H. C. Heineman, neighborhood chairman, served as toastmaster.

A charter presentation was made by Willis V. Smith, scout executive, to Rev. Robert Bavender, pastor, Charles Wendt and Delbert Lease.

Dinner Workers Plan Meeting

A general meeting of workers who are planning a spaghetti supper and carnival at St. Mary's Church will be held Friday at 8:30 p. m. in the parish hall.

The affair is being co-sponsored by the parish and Wamba Caravan 89, Order of Alhambra, Knights of Columbus, on March 1 in the St. Mary's Hall.

Joseph Divico, general chairman, said all workers from the parish and wives and members of the Alhambra should attend Friday's meeting.

Bookkeeper Speaks To Allegany Class

The tenth grade commercial arithmetic class of Allegany High School, instructed by Carlton Shore, this week heard a talk by Mrs. Stanley T. Daniels, County United Fund bookkeeper, as part of a program to give the students a broader insight into community life.

Mrs. Daniels explained the plans and policies of CUF, the work that is done by more than 1,000 volunteer workers, the agency budgets which must be approved by business men, labor leaders, industrialists and housewives, and the vast bookkeeping, accounting and auditing responsibilities involved in rendering public service with the gifts of people in every walk of life.

Support Asked For Economic Unit

The Cumberland Chamber of Commerce has asked State Senator Charles M. See to support a proposal for the creation of a Commission and Department of Economic Development.

Robert C. Petersen, manager, said the Chamber believes the creation of the unit, as set forth in House Bill 130 passed by the House February 13, would be very helpful to the development of the Cumberland area.

Maryland, he said, is in a poor competitive position in that it is one of three states which does not have a similar body acting on a state-wide basis.

The first dictionaries were used by ancient Egyptians and Babylonians—to explain signs.

New Weather Center

MELBOURNE, Australia (UPI) —Interior Minister Gordon Freeth said Wednesday Melbourne would become a world center for Antarctic weather research for a trial period of five years. Freeth told an International Antarctic Symposium the center, expected to open in March, would supply up-to-date information to forecasters throughout the world.

Fog Disrupts Traffic

LONDON (UPI) — Fog blanketed most of southern England and the English Channel Wednesday, disrupting airplane and shipping traffic.

A jewelry piece that is out of keeping with a woman's costume or the time of day betokens a lack of taste.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Flower Motifs

The history of jewelry is the history of woman!

The rules of jewelry etiquette begin with the beginning of life, and every woman of taste is a collector of jewelry. Yet in no field are women more at loss than in the proper etiquette of jewelry.

The ever-popular charity luncheon — usually combined with a fashion show — is one of the most popular affairs a woman attends. She usually sits at a table with her close friends. She will probably meet others. And be seen by many. The occasion generally calls for a degree of elegance. A woman's jewels should be well matched. Pearls are to be preferred.

There most certainly should be no big display of diamonds. However, if a woman possesses a distinctive jewel — one that is a conservation piece — this is the time to wear it. You will nearly always find that a well designed and attractive piece offers a pleasant opening for conversation. This in turn makes for friendly ease among any strangers at the table — which the charming woman always strives for.

Among basic rules to be remembered, here's an important one. Never wear a diamond bracelet over gloves unless these are not removed for the entire evening. Also, never wear a diamond clip on a stole, jacket or fur coat. When any wraps are removed, the clip must be taken off and attached to the gown. A superfluous move.

As the calendar years increase — a woman wishes to look her best and certainly as young as possible. Experts agree that for the effect of youth, flower motifs in the jewelry ensemble are the most flattering.

Desperado Added To 'Most Wanted' List

WASHINGTON (UPI) — John Thomas Freeman, a suspected holdup artist and car thief who also is wanted for questioning in the brutal murder of his partner in crime, was added Tuesday to the FBI's list of 10 most wanted criminals.

The FBI described the 40-year-old fugitive as "a fast-moving, far-ranging felon who apparently considers a gun part of being well-dressed." It said he is considered "armed and extremely dangerous."

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — Elizabeth Taylor is expected to sign any day now to star in Edna St. Vincent Millay's "A Lovely Light." Liz read the script, liked it, and says if Columbia can get Josh Logan she will say "yes." The top brass, Sam Briskin and Abe Schneider, say they have made a deal with Logan to direct and with Michael Blackfort to produce, and expect Elizabeth to make the movie in 1960.

I talked with Elizabeth and she says while she hasn't actually signed the contract, she is interested.

Once again the continental charmer Curt Jurgens has signed for a Hollywood-produced movie—and once again he won't make it in Hollywood. Curt told Buddy Adler he will make "Blue Angel" with May Britt (the original made a star of Marlene Dietrich). It will be shot in Hamburg, Germany, which at least makes sense. It's a German story.

At the present moment Curt is in Hong Kong completing "Ferry to Hong Kong." His picture just before this was "Inn of the Sixth Happiness" also for 20th, shot in England and Scotland.

The people who like Bob Hope shouldn't ask him to appear at benefits until he feels better. His doctors have said that rest is imperative and rest is all he needs. He can never say "no," when he is asked to help someone. But now let's help him by letting him have time to relax.

One date he plans to keep is with former President Harry Truman in Kansas City, where Robin is booked to appear with the symphony orchestra the end of March.

"Should you do it?" I asked Bob.

"Oh, heck! I'll be rested by then," he said. And I'm sure he will, but no more treks overseas. The last one in Africa and Spain is what exhausted him and gave him the blood clot in his eye.

Really too bad that Shirley Jones and Jack Cassidy only signed for a two week engagement at the Cocoanut Grove. They are so good. They leave Feb. 23 for Palm Beach to open in "A Pound in Your Pocket," an English play, at the Royal Poinciana Theatre. They'll stay there until March 15, and may bring the play to New York.

I suppose you could say it was a lucky mistake for Patricia Cutts who was acquitted over a traffic violation around Christmas time when she insisted the police made a mistake.

Producer Charles Schneer of Columbia saw her picture in the paper and was impressed by her looks and her spunk. He remembered her when he was casting the role of the courageous English nurse in "Battle of the Coral Sea," and added her to the cast with Gia Scala and Cliff Robertson.

I thoroughly enjoyed the party I hosted for "Ingenue," a new teenage magazine. All of our top names in the teenage group, plus a few of the older ones, several teachers, professors and students from the high schools were our guests, and what a good time they all had drinking non-alcoholic doubles and dancing.

Alice Thompson, "Ingenue's" editor, Albert Delacorte, publisher of Dell Publications, pretty Susan Van Wyck, the cover girl from New York, and Helen Weller greeted the youthful guests.

Church Honors Scouts Units

Cresaptown Methodist Church held its annual scouting banquet last week honoring its three units, Cub Pack 9, Boy Scout Troop 9 and Explorer Post 9.

General chairman Grady H. Wolford presided and H. C. Heineman, neighborhood chairman, served as toastmaster.

A charter presentation was made by Willis V. Smith, scout executive, to Rev. Robert Bavender, pastor, Charles Wendt and Delbert Lease.

The program also included a talk by Henry Lowery, board official, who spoke on the trip last summer by a group of Explorer Scouts. A color film on the trip was shown by William Claus, of Explorer Post 10.

Dinner Workers Plan Meeting

A general meeting of workers who are planning a spaghetti supper and carnival at St. Mary's Church will be held Friday at 8:30 p. m. in the parish hall.

The affair is being co-sponsored by the parish and Wamba Caravan 89, Order of Alhambra, Knights of Columbus, on March 1 in the St. Mary's Hall.

Joseph Divico, general chairman, said all workers from the parish and wives and members of the Alhambra should attend Friday's meeting.

Bookkeeper Speaks To Allegany Class

The tenth grade commercial arithmetic class of Allegany High School, instructed by Carlton Shore, this week heard a talk by Mrs. Stanley T. Daniels, County United Fund bookkeeper, as part of a program to give the students a broader insight into community life.

Mrs. Daniels explained the plans and policies of CUF, the work that is done by more than 1,000 volunteer workers, the agency budgets which must be approved by business men, labor leaders, industrialist and housewives, and the vast bookkeeping, accounting and auditing responsibilities involved in rendering public service with the gifts of people in every walk of life.

Five Wills Admitted To Probate Here

Five wills were admitted to probate Tuesday in Orphans Court.

The will of Francis Marion Hewitt, who died February 5 names his son, Lawrence A. Hewitt, as executor. The estate was left to the widow, Mrs. Mary B. Hewitt.

The will of John R. Botzum, who died December 23, 1958, named his widow, Mrs. Ethel C. Botzum, as executor and principal beneficiary. Cash bequests were made to Akron University and Diane Botzum and John R. Botzum II, a daughter and son. Diane Botzum resides in Santa Barbara, Calif., and the son in Akron.

The will of Flora Jane Rephan, who died June 8, 1958, named her husband, Alfred Roy Rephan, 38 Uhl Street, Frostburg, as executor and beneficiary.

The will of Anne K. Lindsay, of Frostburg, who died February 5 named a nephew, William Lindsay, of Wrights Crossing, as executor. Five nieces and nephews are beneficiaries.

The will of Charles U. Miller, who died October 12, 1958, named William Robert Delaney, 52 Bowery Street, Frostburg, as executor. Mrs. Agnes Miller, widow, was named beneficiary.

Support Asked For Economic Unit

The Cumberland Chamber of Commerce has asked State Senator Charles M. See to support a proposal for the creation of a Commission and Department of Economic Development.

Robert C. Petersen, manager, said the Chamber believes the creation of the unit, as set forth in House Bill 130 passed by the House February 13, would be very helpful to the development of the Cumberland area.

Maryland, he said, is in a poor competitive position in that it is one of three states which does not have a similar body acting on a state-wide basis.

The first dictionaries were used by ancient Egyptians and Babylonians—to explain signs.

New Weather Center

MELBOURNE, Australia (UPI) —Interior Minister Gordon Freeth said Wednesday Melbourne would become a world center for Antarctic weather research for a trial period of five years. Freeth told an International Antarctic Symposium the center, expected to open in March, would supply up-to-date information to forecasters throughout the world.

Fog Disrupts Traffic

LONDON (UPI) — Fog blanketed most of southern England and the English Channel Wednesday, disrupting airplane and shipping traffic.

A jewelry piece that is out of keeping with a woman's costume or the time of day betokens a lack of taste.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Flower Motifs

The history of jewelry is the history of woman!

The rules of jewelry etiquette begin with the beginning of life, and every woman of taste is a collector of jewelry. Yet in no field are women more at loss than in the proper etiquette of jewelry.

The ever-popular charity luncheon — usually combined with a fashion show — is one of the most popular affairs a woman attends. She usually sits at a table with her close friends. She will probably meet others. And be seen by many. The occasion generally calls for a degree of elegance. A woman's jewels should be well matched. Pearls are to be preferred.

There most certainly should be no big display of diamonds. However, if a woman possesses a distinctive jewel — one that is a conservation piece — this is the time to wear it. You will nearly always find that a well designed and attractive piece offers a pleasant opening for conversation. This in turn makes for friendly ease among any strangers at the table — which the charming woman always strives for.

Among basic rules to be remembered, here's an important one. Never wear a diamond bracelet over gloves unless these are not removed for the entire evening. Also, never wear a diamond clip on a stole, jacket or fur coat. When any wraps are removed, the clip must be taken off and attached to the gown. A superfluous move.

As the calendar years increase — a woman wishes to look her best and certainly as young as possible. Experts agree that for the effect of youth, flower motifs in the jewelry ensemble are the most flattering.

TOMORROW: Day-Long Comfort.

HOW MUCH SHOULD YOU WEIGH? A new, lightning calculator that tells you how to compute your own individual weight. Write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper, enclosing 10c (in coin) and a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ask for "How Much Should You Weigh?"

Desperado Added To 'Most Wanted' List

WASHINGTON (UPI) — John Thomas Freeman, a suspected holdup artist and car thief who also is wanted for questioning in the brutal murder of his partner in crime, was added Tuesday to the FBI's list of 10 most wanted criminals.

The FBI described the 40-year-old fugitive as "a fast-moving, far-ranging felon who apparently considers a gun part of being well-dressed." It said he is considered "armed and extremely dangerous."

Chemicals, Oils And Rails Pace Late Market Upturn

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stock market values were boosted around 1 billion dollars in a late upturn which featured chemical and drug stocks, oils, electronics issues and rails.

The rise came as a climax to a more or less routine session in which the balance tipped to the downside most of the time.

The market showed only minor and passing reaction to President Eisenhower's statement that the interest ceiling on government securities may have to be boosted.

Early softness was most notable in Standard Oil (New Jersey) which for the second day in a row was the most actively traded issue. It fell more than a point at its low, on top of Tuesday's wide loss, but recovered all the decline in the late upturn.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. each day the code letters are different.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 NT.	Pass	3 NT.	Pass
Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Ten of ♣.

An examination of today's holding will reveal that North and South have 11 tricks at no trump with the normal club lead. How this total was reduced to eight by a clever defender is the subject of our tale.

The final contract was eminently sound, but a one no trump bid is not our choice on the South hand. Any doubleton should contain a high honor, at least the queen. South has an easy opening of one club for over one diamond he can bid one heart, and over a major suit response he has a convenient raise.

West opened the ten of clubs which South won in dummy with the ace. In order to develop the diamond suit, declarer led to the king of hearts and played the jack of diamonds permitting it to ride.

East with complete disdain played the four. On the diamond continuation West ducked again. Declarer, having marked West with the queen of diamonds when the jack held on the previous trick naturally played the seven from dummy, and East could wait no longer. Dummy had now become an entirely useless affair except for the ace of spades, and declarer was able to bring in only eight tricks.

Had East taken the queen of diamonds on the first round of that suit there would have been no incident to record, for declarer could have brought home more tricks than he needed.

Perhaps a better play by declarer at trick two was a low diamond to his own hand without releasing one of his heart stoppers. Had he chose to do so in this case it is difficult to see how any diabolical plot could have stopped him.

N.Y. Eggs And Butter

NEW YORK (AP)—(USDA) — Wholesale egg offerings liberal Wednesday. Demand relatively quiet. Receipts 17,300.

Nearby whites: Top quality (48-50 lbs) 37-40; mediums 34½-35½; smalls 33½-34½.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Grains tried to rally towards the close Wednesday, but closed steady and easy in most contracts on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Wheat closed off ¼ to up ¼ cent; corn (old) off ⅛ cent; (new) unchanged to off ½ cent; rye up ⅛ to ⅜ cent; oats up ⅛ to off ⅛ cent; soybeans up ⅜ to off ⅛ cent.

Commission house buying helped strengthen wheat futures from early lows and old crops showed a vigorous advance. Hedge selling and scattered liquidation weakened prices early.

The market opened with another report of Southwestern terminal selling here and sizable amount of cash wheat was sold. The news put a cap on trader's enthusiasm.

In corn, May was the favorite. It closed unchanged, however, because offerings became fewer. Cash houses bought March and May but prices dropped ⅛ cent each. Other deliveries slipped ⅜ to ½ cent a bushel.

In oats activity was dull and prices remained steady. Cash oats showed more strength than futures, where March was the attraction. The most advance came in rye, as March and May deliveries moved ¾ to a full cent higher. July and September remained about steady.

In soybeans, scattered selling turned prices easier early in the session. However, some commercial buying raised March to $2.21⅜ and May $2.22¾. They closed up ⅜ cent.

Grains at outside markets were firm. The range:

Chemicals, Oils And Rails Pace Late Market Upturn

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stock market values were boosted around 1 billion dollars in a late upturn which featured chemical and drug stocks, oils, electronics issues and rails.

The rise came as a climax to a more or less routine session in which the balance tipped to the downside most of the time.

The market showed only minor and passing reaction to President Eisenhower's statement that the interest ceiling on government securities may have to be boosted.

Early softness was most notable in Standard Oil (New Jersey) which for the second day in a row was the most actively traded issue. It fell more than a point at its low, on top of Tuesday's wide loss, but recovered all the decline in the late upturn.

Of a total 1,224 issues appearing on the tape, 637 finished the day higher, only 365 lower.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 NT.	Pass	3 NT.	Pass
Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Ten of ♣.

An examination of today's holding will reveal that North and South have 11 tricks at no trump with the normal club lead. How this total was reduced to eight by a clever defender is the subject of our tale.

The final contract was eminently sound, but a one no trump bid is not our choice on the South hand. Any doubleton should contain a high honor, at least the queen. South has an easy opening of one club for over one diamond he can bid one heart, and over a major suit response he has a convenient raise.

West opened the ten of clubs which South won in dummy with the ace. In order to develop the diamond suit, declarer led to the king of hearts and played the jack of diamonds permitting it to ride.

East with complete disdain played the four. On the diamond continuation West ducked again. Declarer, having marked West with the queen of diamonds when the jack held on the previous trick naturally played the seven from dummy, and East could wait no longer. Dummy had now become an entirely useless affair except for the ace of spades, and declarer was able to bring in only eight tricks.

Had East taken the queen of diamonds on the first round of that suit there would have been no incident to record, for declarer could have brought home more tricks than he needed.

Perhaps a better play by declarer at trick two was a low diamond to his own hand without releasing one of his heart stoppers. Had he chose to do so in this case it is difficult to see how any diabolical plot could have stopped him.

N.Y. Eggs And Butter

NEW YORK (AP)—(USDA) — Wholesale egg offerings liberal Wednesday. Demand relatively quiet. Receipts 17,300.

Nearby whites: Top quality (48-50 lbs) 37-40; mediums 34½-35½; smalls 33½-34½.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Grains tried to rally towards the close Wednesday, but closed steady and easy in most contracts on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Wheat closed off ¼ to up ¼ cent; corn (old) off ¼ cent; (new) unchanged to off ½ cent; rye up ⅛ to ¼ cent; oats up ⅛ to off ⅛ cent; soybeans up ⅝ to off ⅛ cent.

Commission house buying helped strengthen wheat futures from early lows and old crops showed a vigorous advance. Hedge selling and scattered liquidation weakened prices early.

The market opened with another report of Southwestern terminal selling here and sizable amount of cash wheat was sold. The news put a cap on trader's enthusiasm.

In corn, May was the favorite. It closed unchanged, however, because offerings became fewer. Cash houses bought March and May but prices dropped ⅛ cent each. Other deliveries slipped ⅝ to ½ cent a bushel.

In oats activity was dull and prices remained steady. Cash oats showed more strength than futures, where March was the attraction. The most advance came in rye, as March and May deliveries moved ¾ to a full cent higher. July and September remained about steady.

In soybeans, scattered selling turned prices easier early in the session. However, some commercial buying raised March to $2.21⅝ and May $2.22¼. They closed up ⅝ cent.

Grains at outside markets were firm. The range:

Tawes Favors Stricter Motor Violation Laws

Bills Introduced On Traffic Safety

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes Wednesday gave traffic safety legislation a big push in the Maryland Legislature amid signs he also would call on trial magistrates to crack down harder on violators.

Tawes threw his backing behind bills which would set up a point system to rid Maryland highways of chronic traffic offenders and to provide for chemical tests in drunken driving cases.

He said he realized perfect safety could not be legislated on highways, "but the toll in deaths, injuries and property damage from highway accidents has reached proportions so shocking as to demand stricter laws and stiffer regulations."

Seeks Conference

At the same time, Del. Silver (D-Balto 5th), chairman of the House Motor Vehicles Commission, announced he will introduce a resolution Thursday urging the governor to call a conference of magistrates to discuss the entire problem of traffic safety.

The measure has been drawn up with Tawes' knowledge and presumably has his approval.

"We want to attack this problem on all fronts — legislative, executive and judicial," Silver said.

He said he imagined the governor would wait to call the magistrates together until he has appointed the new ones for Baltimore City and the 23 counties.

Tawes' endorsement of point-system and alcohol test bills already before the Legislature virtually assures passage of these controversial measures which have failed repeatedly in the past.

The governor said he also favors a bill to strengthen eyesight requirements for drivers "and I hope the bill will be placed upon my desk for signature."

He said he was not ready yet, however, to back two other major traffic safety proposals — compulsory annual inspection of automobiles and required driver education in high schools. Both programs require further study, he said, as to their financing and method of operation.

Effective At End Of 1960

He recommended that the point-system bill not take effect until Dec. 31, 1960, in order to give the Department of Motor Vehicles time to get set up for administering it.

Points to be assessed would range from 2 to 12. An accumulation of three points would bring a warning letter from the Department of Motor Vehicles, 5 would bring a conference with department officials, eight would suspend a license from 2 to 30 days, and 12 would bring revocation of a driver's license.

Conviction of speeding at least 10 miles over the limit would result in three points. Leaving the scene of an accident would be 8 points if there was no personal injury and 12 if there was injury. Driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor would be a 12-point offense.

Art Talent Contest Open To High School Seniors

Area high school seniors are eligible to enter an art talent contest being sponsored by the Junior Woman's Civic Club in cooperation with the State Federation of Women's Clubs.

Entries in the 1959 contest must be submitted by April 1 and may be paintings of oil, water color and pastels. The theme for this year's contest is "Frontiers of America."

Seniors in high schools of Maryland are eligible. The state finalist will be awarded a scholarship to any art school or college in the United States. The winner in the state contest will be entered in the national contest which will have additional scholarships.

Miss Jane Ebert, chairman of the fine arts committee of the Junior Women, announced that some 13 seniors in Allegany County public schools have indicated they will enter the competition.

She said nine are enrolled in Allegany High School; one at Fort Hill and three at Beall. Interested seniors may contact their art instructor for additional information, or may call Miss Ebert at PA 4-5688.

Barton Water Supply Aired By Citizens

Peter C. Dodge, division of sanitary engineering, Maryland State Department of Health, last night spoke to citizens of Barton who are concerned about the water problem in that community.

Mr. Dodge told the citizens, who met at the American Legion Home, that the town officials will have to contact an engineer to study the problem.

He also suggested that arrangements be made to study the possibilities of getting federal aid to improve the present water situation.

Some 75 persons in attendance voted to invite Mayor Arthur Hoffa and members of the town council to attend a meeting at the Legion Home on February 25.

Meanwhile, the citizens decided to check into the legal procedure which can be taken to get additional water for the community, which has been without a sufficient supply for some time.

Ernest Polard was in charge of last night's meeting. Joseph Shuhart Jr. arranged the program, which included a talk by Rex Dexter, resident engineer of the Corps of Engineers, in charge of the flood control project in Cumberland. He outlined plans for a better water supply for Barton.

Also attending was Dr. Ton van Strien, county health officer, who suggested a complete evaluation of the water situation and the appointment of a committee to work on the project.

"Trends in the Maryland 4-H Tractor Program," is the subject of a talk given by Guy W. Gienger, extension agricultural engineer of the University of Maryland, who plans to attend tonight's meeting.

Local leaders working with the 4-H tractor program in the county will attend. Sherard Wilson, state 4-H Club agent, and a representative of the American Oil Company are also expected to be present.

Area tractor dealers have been invited to attend the meeting.

329 Miss Classes At Mt. Savage

Absenteeism in the Mt. Savage School climbed to 13.4 per cent yesterday as 329 of the 758 pupils missed classes but Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel in the county public school system, said he believed the outbreak of influenza in that community had reached its peak.

The number of absent pupils in the high school department remained relatively steady from Tuesday to yesterday, advancing only from 185 to 193. The elementary school absenteeism went up from 108 to 136 pupils. Most of these cases are of a mild type, it is understood.

Mt. Savage apparently is the only community in the county suffering from this current outbreak of influenza. Health officials reported that Montgomery County had a similar incidence of the illness but none was reported in the District of Columbia.

Poultrymen Hear Report On Egg Needs

Allegany County poultrymen were told yesterday at the LaVale Fire Hall that the demand for Grade A eggs in the Baltimore area is so great that poultrymen from North Carolina, Georgia and Minnesota are finding it profitable to ship eggs to the Monumental City.

That observation was made by Russell Hawes of Baltimore, who is in charge of the egg candling and grading in Maryland. While here he checked some stores and found that eggs there met the proper standards for Grade A and Grade B.

Mr. Hawes suggested to the approximately 50 poultrymen at yesterday's session that they might find producing layers profitable on the full time basis but cautioned against doing so with fewer than 2,000 birds.

Other speakers at the annual winter meeting for poultrymen were Dr. Harold M. DeVolt, who is in charge of the state livestock sanitation service; Wade Rice, poultry specialist at the University of Maryland; Dr. C. S. Shaffner, head of the poultry department at the University of Maryland, and Phil Hassinger, representative of Eshelman and Son Feed Company.

County Agent Joseph M. Steger said a number of these speakers stressed the importance of sanitation in the poultry houses. Richard M. Stegmaier presided at the all-day session.

Today, the county winter fruit growers meeting will be held in the same hall starting at 10 a.m. A. F. Vierheller, extension horticulturist, will be the first of five speakers on tap for today.

Other speakers to the fruit growers will include Dr. B. L. Rogers, extension assistant professor in the horticulture department; Dr. L. O. Weaver, plant pathologist; E. F. Krestersen, assistant extension entomologist, and Dr. Castillo Graham, associate entomologist.

Thief To Pay Back Twice The Amount He Stole

A penitent thief who stole a March of Dimes coin container volunteered to pay back twice the amount he stole when he was given a hearing yesterday in Trial Magistrate Court.

Magistrate J. Milton Dick found the man guilty of petty theft but deferred passing sentence. Magistrate Dick then gave him a week to make restitution of $5 to the March of Dimes.

However, the man volunteered to donate $10 to the dimes fund and added he always had been a contributor to the March of Dimes fund drives.

House Would Outlaw Display Of 'Bad' Books

Close Vote Tightens Bill On Obscenity

By GEORGE BOWEN

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The Maryland House of Delegates, under personal pressure from Mayor D'Alesandro of Baltimore, restored to full strength Wednesday a stricter bill on indecent literature.

The bill, watered down from its original form, was pulled back from enactment and after a complex series of votes was recommitted to the Judiciary Committee.

The committee previously had knocked out a provision that store owners would be presumed to intend to sell objectionable publications to minors by merely displaying them.

Mayor D'Alesandro, who had urged it be retained, visited the State House before the House met Wednesday afternoon.

Political Undertones

Melvin claimed "A lot of messages have been going back and forth" and he urged the delegates to consider the proposal in an unemotional manner and "not consider that a campaign is going on."

"I am beholden to no one politically," said Del. Resnick (D-Balto 5th) in discussing the change of some minds "in 24 hours."

Melvin and Del. Mathias (R-Frederick) both assailed the idea of presumption of guilt on the part of owners for displaying material considered objectionable only for children.

"We all want to promote decency and morals, but are we not invading constitutional guarantees when we say there is a presumption of guilt?" asked Mathias.

"Doesn't that violate all we've been taught to believe?"

A Constitutional Doubt

He said it cast constitutional doubt on the entire bill and the attorney general's office had indicated the same opinion.

The bill also would make the operator of a store responsible as well as any employe who sold an objectionable book. No "lewd, obscene or indecent" publication now may be sold to anyone. In addition, books containing "violent bloodshed, lust or immorality" may not be sold to minors.

Another example of influence on the Legislature showed up Wednesday in the dispatch with which a recommendation by Gov. Tawes for reorganization of the State Roads Commission is being accorded.

It was introduced last Thursday and given a favorable report Wednesday morning by the Ways and Means Committee. The House adopted the report in the afternoon with no questions.

In the Senate, final passage was given a bill which would ban billboards and other advertising signs within 660 feet of expressways. They previously were banned within 600 feet. The bill now goes to the governor.

Secret River Session

Earlier in the day members of the Senate Chesapeake Bay and Tributaries Committee held another secret session to discuss the proposed new Potomac River Compact between Virginia and Maryland.

A reliable source said the dominant sentiment within the committee was for killing the proposal, which already has been approved by the Virginia Legislature. Since Gov. Tawes has endorsed the proposal, it could evolve into a test of how far Democratic legislators may go in bucking the wishes of the chief executive, who is the leader of their party.

The Bay and Tributaries Committee members were miffed when President Della referred the compact bill to the Judiciary Committee instead of to their unit.

They have planned another secret meeting for next Wednesday, a few hours before the opening of public hearings on the compact. The proposed agreement was designed to settle the centuries-old dispute between fishermen of the two states over resources of the Maryland-owned river.

The second license was issued to Michael Savarese for premises at 305 Baltimore Avenue. This is a Class D type for consumption on the premises. Vera Hackett held this license until she surrendered it January 12 when she went out of business.

Snow Flurries, Windy, Colder Forecast Today

Light snow flurries were prevalent in the tri-state area last night and about a half inch of snow had fallen in Oakland where the temperature had dropped to 18 degrees above zero.

Partly cloudy skies, windy and colder with more snow flurries in the mountains is forecast for today. Temperatures are expected to be in the 20s in the west portion of Maryland.

Ralph Weber, official weather observer at Oakland, said last night there were high winds in Garrett County and the temperature had dipped to 18 above by 9:30 p. m. About a half inch of snow was on the ground and light snow had been falling since 3 p. m. yesterday.

Cumberland's weather observer, Robert Golden, said last night it was windy and colder here and the temperature was at the freezing mark at 9:30 p. m. State Police at Romney, W. Va. and at Bedford, Pa., also reported light flurries of snow last night.

Employment Office To Be Open Monday

BALTIMORE —Department of Employment Security offices in Baltimore City and five other Maryland cities will remain open Monday to handle unemployment benefit claims.

Other state offices will be closed that day in observance of Washington's Birthday.

Sylvan Retreat Roof Repairs Are Authorized

Alex J. Schute, 127 Polk Street, was awarded the contract to repair the roof of Sylvan Retreat on a low bid of $297.65 submitted to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners Tuesday.

G. A. Largent, 24 Potomac Street, the only other bidder, submitted a price of $350.

Commissioner John J. Rowan and County Roads Supervisor Harry T. Skelly reported Tuesday on their investigation of two complaints which had been received last Friday. They agreed that the Bowling Green drainage condition, concerning which J. V. MacDonald had complained, needs repair. Mr. Skelly said the repairs will be made soon.

Mr. Rowan and Mr. Skelly also checked into a complaint from Mrs. Evelyn Couter of LaVale about a culvert and open sewer pipe on C Street in LaVale. They said nothing could be done by the county to correct this situation.

Mr. Skelly also had a report concerning High Street which runs off Bedford Road. John Cheney of the Valley Lumber Company had complained about the condition of the street. He said the street does not meet the proper specifications to be brought into the county roads system. These specifications include drainage, safety and width specifications.

Robert Turner, Anna Turner and Mrs. Delbert Knippenberg, RFD 4, Williams Road, complained they were compelled by Dog Warden Merwin R. Hast to purchase dog licenses when a neighbor was not.

In response to a request from Earl D. Grim, superintendent of the County Infirmary, the county commissioners have asked the County Civil Service Board to prepare a list of five eligibles for appointment as practical nurses.

Devereux, Hyde Will Attend GOP Dinner

Senator Keating Will Be Speaker

Two prominent Maryland Republicans who served in the 85th Congress with the present Senator Kenneth B. Keating of New York will attend the Allegany County Lincoln Day dinner at 6:30 p.m. Friday at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

They are General James P. S. Devereux of Stevenson in Baltimore County, who served four terms as Congressman from Maryland's Second District, and former Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde of Bethesda, who represented this Sixth Congressional District for three terms.

Former Rep. Hyde will introduce Senator Keating, the principal speaker, who pulled what amounted to a political upset in view of the Democratic trend when he gained election to the U.S. Senate last November. Senator Keating, who had served five terms in the House of Representatives, was the ranking GOP member of the House Judiciary Committee on which Rep. Hyde also served. Through their association on this committee they became good friends.

Last night, Senator Keating was one of 78 Kiwanians in Congress honored by Kiwanis International at the sixth biennial Kiwanis Congressional Dinner at the Statler Hotel in Washington. There are 21 Senators and 57 Congressmen who belong to Kiwanis clubs. They constitute one-sixth of the total membership.

J. Glenn Beall Jr., chairman of the County Republican State Central Committee, will serve as toastmaster at the Lincoln Day dinner. Last night he said about 250 persons have purchased tickets for the dinner but there still are a few left.

Charles I. Sager, music instructor at Frostburg State Teachers College, will provide vocal selections for the Friday night program.

Sloan Favored For Liquor Board Post

Melvin Sloan of Lonaconing headed a list of eight Republicans recommended last night by the Allegany County Republican State Central Committee for the minority appointment to the Board of Alcoholic Beverages Licenses Commissioners, effective for a six-year term starting in May.

J. Glenn Beall Jr. chairman of the GOP committee, said the list included all eight who had applied to the committee for recommendation to the liquor board.

Mr. Sloan, who heads the list, is a member of the county GOP committee and is the trial magistrate in Lonaconing.

Second on the list was Stanley Hamilton of this city, whose six-year term on the liquor board ends in May.

Others, in the order of recommendation, include Reatus Spiker, Cumberland; George Meyers, Cumberland; Verl Ash, Midland; Claudie VanMeter, Cresaptown; H. Clifford Spiker, Cumberland, and William I. Gephart, Lonaconing.

Copies of this eight-man list will be forwarded to Governor J. Millard Tawes and State Senator Charles M. See, who requested them.

It is understood that the Democratic State Central Committee has recommended the appointment of Leslie L. Wilkinson, LaVale, to the Republican vacancy on the liquor board. Mr. Wilkinson is an uncle of Charles N. "Jerry" Wilkinson, former county commissioner.

Edward J. Ryan and Howard Vandegrift are the two Democrats on the liquor board.

B&O Loses In January

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad said Wednesday it lost about $1,715,000 in January because of a combination of "low traffic and extraordinarily high operating expenses."

The loss compared with a net income of $632,000 for January 1958, the railroad said.

President Howard E. Simpson said in a statement that "heavy rains and snows with resultant high water in the road's most productive territory hit us in two directions.

"First, they forced large expenditures for restoration of line and bridges and detours over other routes. Second, they depressed our revenues by shutting down important industries, like steel plants and coal mines, and otherwise disrupting economic life."

It was the second deficit month reported by the B & O in the past eight years. The other month was February 1958, when income was reduced by low temperatures and heavy snow.

Tawes Favors Stricter Motor Violation Laws

Bills Introduced On Traffic Safety

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes Wednesday gave traffic safety legislation a big push in the Maryland Legislature amid signs he also would call on trial magistrates to crack down harder on violators.

Tawes threw his backing behind bills which would set up a point system to rid Maryland highways of chronic traffic offenders and to provide for chemical tests in drunken driving cases.

He said he realized perfect safety could not be legislated on highways, "but the toll in deaths, injuries and property damage from highway accidents has reached proportions so shocking as to demand stricter laws and stiffer regulations."

Seeks Conference

At the same time, Del. Silver (D-Balto 5th), chairman of the House Motor Vehicles Commission, announced he will introduce a resolution Thursday urging the governor to call a conference of magistrates to discuss the entire problem of traffic safety.

The measure has been drawn up with Tawes' knowledge and presumably has his approval.

"We want to attack this problem on all fronts — legislative, executive and judicial," Silver said.

He said he imagined the governor would wait to call the magistrates together until he has appointed the new ones for Baltimore City and the 23 counties.

Tawes' endorsement of point-system and alcohol test bills already before the Legislature virtually assures passage of these controversial measures which have failed repeatedly in the past.

The governor said he also favors a bill to strengthen eyesight requirements for drivers "and I hope the bill will be placed upon my desk for signature."

He said he was not ready yet, however, to back two other major traffic safety proposals — compulsory annual inspection of automobiles and required driver education in high schools. Both programs require further study, he said, as to their financing and method of operation.

Effective At End Of 1960

He recommended that the point-system bill not take effect until Dec. 31, 1960, in order to give the Department of Motor Vehicles time to get set up for administering it.

Points to be assessed would range from 2 to 12. An accumulation of three points would bring a warning letter from the Department of Motor Vehicles, 5 would bring a conference with department officials, eight would suspend a license from 2 to 30 days, and 12 would bring revocation of a driver's license.

Conviction of speeding at least 10 miles over the limit would result in three points. Leaving the scene of an accident would be 8 points if there was no personal injury and 12 if there was injury. Driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor would be a 12-point offense.

Barton Water Supply Aired By Citizens

Peter C. Dodge, division of sanitary engineering, Maryland State Department of Health, last night spoke to citizens of Barton who are concerned about the water problem in that community.

Mr. Dodge told the citizens, who met at the American Legion Home, that the town officials will have to contact an engineer to study the problem.

He also suggested that arrangements be made to study the possibilities of getting federal aid to improve the present water situation.

Some 75 persons in attendance voted to invite Mayor Arthur Hoffa and members of the town council to attend a meeting at the Legion Home on February 25.

Meanwhile, the citizens decided to check into the legal procedure which can be taken to get additional water for the community, which has been without a sufficient supply for some time.

Ernest Polard was in charge of last night's meeting. Joseph Shuhart Jr. arranged the program, which included a talk by Rex Dexter, resident engineer of the Corps of Engineers, in charge of the flood control project in Cumberland. He outlined plans for a better water supply for Barton.

Also attending was Dr. Ton van Strien, county health officer, who suggested a complete evaluation of the water situation and the appointment of a committee to work on the project.

COLLECTION DAY TODAY

329 Miss Classes At Mt. Savage

Absenteeism in the Mt. Savage School climbed to 13.4 per cent yesterday as 329 of the 758 pupils missed classes but Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel in the county public school system, said he believed the outbreak of influenza in that community had reached its peak.

The number of absent pupils in the high school department remained relatively steady from Tuesday to yesterday, advancing only from 185 to 193. The elementary school absenteeism went up from 108 to 136 pupils. Most of these cases are of a mild type, it is understood.

Mt. Savage apparently is the only community in the county suffering from this current outbreak of influenza. Health officials reported that Montgomery County had a similar incidence of the illness but none was reported in the District of Columbia.

Poultrymen Hear Report On Egg Needs

Allegany County poultrymen were told yesterday at the LaVale Fire Hall that the demand for Grade A eggs in the Baltimore area is so great that poultrymen from North Carolina, Georgia and Minnesota are finding it profitable to ship eggs to the Monumental City.

That observation was made by Russell Hawes of Baltimore, who is in charge of the egg candling and grading in Maryland. While here he checked some stores and found that eggs there met the proper standards for Grade A and Grade B.

Mr. Hawes suggested to the approximately 50 poultrymen at yesterday's session that they might find producing layers profitable on the full time basis but cautioned against doing so with fewer than 2,000 birds.

Other speakers at the annual winter meeting for poultrymen were Dr. Harold M. DeVolt, who is in charge of the state livestock sanitation service; Wade Rice, poultry specialist at the University of Maryland; Dr. C. S. Shaffner, head of the poultry department at the University of Maryland, and Phil Hassinger, representative of Eshelman and Son Feed Company.

County Agent Joseph M. Steger said a number of these speakers stressed the importance of sanitation in the poultry houses. Richard M. Stegmaier presided at the all-day session.

Today, the county winter fruit growers meeting will be held in the same hall starting at 10 a.m. A. F. Vierheller, extension horticulturist, will be the first of five speakers on tap for today.

Other speakers to the fruit growers will include Dr. B. L. Rogers, extension assistant professor in the horticulture department; Dr. L. O. Weaver, plant pathologist; E. F. Krestersen, assistant extension entomologist, and Dr. Castillo Graham, associate entomologist.

Floyd Buser will preside at today's sessions which will be interrupted by a luncheon at the fire hall at noon.

However, the man volunteered to donate $10 to the dimes fund and added he always had been a contributor to the March of Dimes fund drives.

House Would Outlaw Display Of 'Bad' Books

Close Vote Tightens Bill On Obscenity

By GEORGE BOWEN

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The Maryland House of Delegates, under personal pressure from Mayor D'Alesandro of Baltimore, restored to full strength Wednesday a stricter bill on indecent literature.

The bill, watered down from its original form, was pulled back from enactment and after a complex series of votes was recommitted to the Judiciary Committee.

Chairman Melvin (D-Anne Arundel) was given it back by a 60-56 vote on his plea "to clear up constitutional doubts."

The committee previously had knocked out a provision that store owners would be presumed to intend to sell objectionable publications to minors by merely displaying them.

The House voted 61-59 Tuesday to eliminate that extension of the obscene literature law.

Mayor D'Alesandro, who had urged it be retained, visited the State House before the House met Wednesday afternoon.

Political Undertones

Melvin claimed "A lot of messages have been going back and forth" and he urged the delegates to consider the proposal in an unemotional manner and "not consider that a campaign is going on."

D'Alesandro is being opposed for Democratic renomination for mayor in a primary March 3.

"I am beholden to no one politically," said Del. Resnick (D-Balto 5th) in discussing the change of some minds "in 24 hours."

Melvin and Del. Mathias (R-Frederick) both assailed the idea of presumption of guilt on the part of owners for displaying material considered objectionable only for children.

"We all want to promote decency and morals, but are we not invading constitutional guarantees when we say there is a presumption of guilt?" asked Mathias.

"Doesn't that violate all we've been taught to believe?"

A Constitutional Doubt

He said it cast constitutional doubt on the entire bill and the attorney general's office had indicated the same opinion.

The bill also would make the operator of a store responsible as well as any employe who sold an objectionable book. No "lewd, obscene or indecent" publication now may be sold to anyone. In addition, books containing "violent bloodshed, lust or immorality" may not be sold to minors.

Another example of influence on the Legislature showed up Wednesday in the dispatch with which a recommendation by Gov. Tawes for reorganization of the State Roads Commission is being accorded.

It was introduced last Thursday and given a favorable report Wednesday morning by the Ways and Means Committee. The House adopted the report in the afternoon with no questions.

In the Senate, final passage was given a bill which would ban billboards and other advertising signs within 660 feet of expressways. They previously were banned within 600 feet. The bill now goes to the governor.

Secret River Session

Earlier in the day members of the Senate Chesapeake Bay and Tributaries Committee held another secret session to discuss the proposed new Potomac River Compact between Virginia and Maryland.

A reliable source said the dominant sentiment within the committee was for killing the proposal, which already has been approved by the Virginia Legislature. Since Gov. Tawes has endorsed the proposal, it could evolve into a test of how far Democratic legislators may go in bucking the wishes of the chief executive, who is the leader of their party.

The Bay and Tributaries Committee members were miffed when President Della referred the compact bill to the Judiciary Committee instead of to their unit.

They have planned another secret meeting for next Wednesday, a few hours before the opening of public hearings on the compact. The proposed agreement was designed to settle the centuries-old dispute between fishermen of the two states over resources of the Maryland-owned river.

Mr. Skelly also had a report concerning High Street which runs off Bedford Road. John Cheney of the Valley Lumber Company had complained about the condition of the street. He said the street does not meet the proper specifications to be brought into the county roads system. These specifications include drainage, safety and width specifications.

Robert Turner, Anna Turner and Mrs. Delbert Knippenberg, RFD 4, Williams Road, complained they were compelled by Dog Warden Merwin R. Hast to purchase dog licenses when a neighbor was not.

Others, in the order of recommendation, include Reatus Spiker, Cumberland; George Meyers, Cumberland; Verl Ash, Midland; Claudie VanMeter, Cresaptown; H. Clifford Spiker, Cumberland, and William I. Gephart, Lonaconing.

Copies of this eight-man list will be forwarded to Governor J. Millard Tawes and State Senator Charles M. See, who requested them.

It is understood that the Democratic State Central Committee has recommended the appointment of Leslie L. Wilkinson, LaVale, to the Republican vacancy on the liquor board. Mr. Wilkinson is an uncle of Charles N. "Jerry" Wilkinson, former county commissioner.

B&O Loses In January

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad said Wednesday it lost about $1,715,000 in January because of a combination of "low traffic and extraordinarily high operating expenses."

The loss compared with a net income of $632,000 for January 1958, the railroad said.

President Howard E. Simpson said in a statement that "heavy rains and snows with resultant high water in the road's most productive territory hit us in two directions.

"First, they forced large expenditures for restoration of line and bridges and detours over other routes. Second, they depressed our revenues by shutting down important industries, like steel plants and coal mines, and otherwise disrupting economic life."

It was the second deficit month reported by the B & O in the past eight years. The other month was February 1958, when income was reduced by low temperatures and heavy snow.
